

Those on our sick list this week are Mary Ward and Evelyn Beck. Hurry back. We miss you. Those returning to work after being out are: Magdaline Bowman and Bessie Shockley. Glad to have you back with us.

We have made a few changes in the Bleachery. We have a new second hand and it's none other than our own Walter Joyce. Mr. "Al" has been transferred to Quality Control. Good luck to you both.

Mabel Shuford spent Saturday shopping in Danville. Did you get your "Easter bonnet," Mabel?

Elizabeth Meeks spent the week-end visiting friends and relatives in Washington, D. C., and Baltimore, Md.

Oh, yes! Sarah Eggleston is back at work with us. She has been out 'cause husband "Woodie" has returned home from the Army. I understand Woodie has taken up his old job again with Wage Bureau at the Woolen Mill.

Mrs. Harry Martin and daughter, "Beth," spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Brim and children.

Wedding bells have been ringing again in the Bleachery. Miss Alma Thomas and Earl Richardson were married on Monday, March 4. Earl was recently discharged from the Navy. Good luck and congratulations to you both. It looks as though we may have more wedding bells soon. Anyway, I'm keeping my eyes and ears open, "Nina."

Sheeting Mill
By Billie Williams

You have heard the old saying that you can't get blood out of a turnip. Well it's almost that hard to get news out of the Sheeting Mill.

Mrs. Ethel Troxler, Mrs. Eva Meadford worked a whole solid month without being either absent or tardy. Good work, gals. We know your husbands are proud of you.

John Milton Gregory has been honorably discharged from the U. S. Navy. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Gregory, of Draper.

Mr. Robert Moore, Miss Lillie Meadows, Mrs. Lena Barham, and Mr. and Mrs. Billie Williams were shopping in Burlington during the week-end.

Wanted—A trash can. See Mrs. Mary Hawks of the Sheeting-Spooling department.

Has anyone seen Nannie's shoes? She can't find them anywhere. If you have, please return them and receive reward.

Wanted—Ten experienced dairymen—must be sober, and honest. Will pay good salary. If interested, see Joe Will Pulliam of the Sheeting-Weave room.

Mrs. Kate Wilson—doesn't know any news. But, she does know how to give you a big smile.

We have a certain fellow who is employed in the Sheeting-Weave department. His wife told him to shut up and he thought she said stand up. And the result was a crick in the neck. How about it, Willie Coon?

Wanted—A good, dependable, sober

Here is a picture of a girl and a cat. At first glance you'll say there is nothing unusual about it except that the girl is very pretty. She's Miss Ruth Hall, of Draper, and she's 18 years old. The other unusual thing about this picture is the cat—who is exactly the same age as the girl.

.....
chauffeur; one who can drive a '41 Buick. See Jack Steward of the Sheeting-Weave room.

Central Warehouse Office—
By Glennice Jones

Another ray of sunshine came from the Billing department the other day when Minnie Gilley came in with a gorgeous hunk of diamond on the usual finger. Could it be that new civilian, Jack Steele? (Who else!)

It seems Nancy Matlock was inspired by hearing the great Melchior last week for she rendered a solo showing unusual ability in the First Christian church on Sunday.

Bertha Mae Pyron had better stay home from now on or she may put the telephone company out of business. Bertha Mae was among the ailing following the "Banquet" the other night. We are glad to have her back.

The Billing department is carrying on without Iva Pendleton, who is a patient at the Leaksville Hospital. We are already missing her, and looking forward to having her back.

Girls, attention: Malvene Ferguson's brother, Chief Elwood Ferguson, is enjoying a furlough at home.

Mamie and Roy Burcham are "aunt" and "uncle" again to Mr. and Mrs. Ira Burcham's new son.

Kathleen Hunnicutt has left us to take up housekeeping. She has graciously invited all of us to see her.

Patsy Pyron, Bertha Mae's sister, married Lonnie Smith in a quiet ceremony at the bride's home on Saturday.

Roanoke was the destination of Malvene Ferguson who went shopping over the week-end. We heard about the spring outfit, Malvene!

Elaine Nance spent the day in Fort Bragg last week. Looking over the place Joe has to live, we suppose.

Mildred Hodges went down to get her Clarence (Martin) when he received his discharge at Norfolk. We have noticed that certain smile every day now, and she doesn't watch the mail any more.

Continuous Service Record

Congratulations to the following employees who by their faithfulness and devotion to duty have reached enviable milestones in their service with Marshall Field & Co.

25 years of continuous service (Feb. '46)
Annie E. Wilson Finishing
Guy E. Thomasson Blanket

20 years of continuous service (Feb. '46)
B. B. Robertson Sheeting
Frank Stelig Karastan

15 years of continuous service (Feb. '46)
Vertie T. Robertson Bedspread

10 years of continuous service (Feb. '46)
O. D. Petty General Office
Mary M. Patterson Woolen
James W. Robertson Woolen
Mary B. Reynolds Karastan
George R. Pace Towel

Two Kinds of Success

Theodore Roosevelt once said that there are two kinds of success. One is the very rare kind. That is genius. The other is that known to the average man—the average statesman, the average public servant, the average soldier. He is the man who has merely ordinary qualities that he shares with his fellows, but he has developed those ordinary qualities to an extraordinary degree.

Aviation in 1955

Employment in the aviation industry, which has been estimated by the Civil Aeronautics Administration to have been 142,300 in 1939, is expected to jump to over 900,000 in 1955. Factories should employ 450,800 persons; air and non-air carrier operations will account for 356,000; airports will need 59,600, and the government will have a force of 25,000 connected with aviation.