

Mention Around the Mills

Central Warehouse Office Chatter Vs. Jabber By Glennice Jones

These last few weeks we have seen many come and go on their vacations. Nancy Matlock finally got that train to Colorado with her friend, Lottie Eggleston. They stayed two weeks in the wild and wooly west and Nancy reports she left all the horses swayback.

Margaret Nance left last Saturday for Virginia Beach in an automobile. We heard that she got lost, even before arriving. Now that she is back with a lovely tan, we hear enticing tales of "Naval base, medical students, moonlight cruise, beach party and on and on." Could be that Margaret would like to have four week's vacation! If all that happened to us, we'd like it too!

Malvene Ferguson also is vacationing at Virginia Beach. We expect to really have some news for ye readers next issue.

We are very glad to see Jesse Burton back at his desk after several weeks of illness. Jesse says he's a full-fledged civilian now, but we think he's looked natural for a long time.

With most of the office taking a vacation last week, we still haven't heard whether Ed Martin saw any of that blue grass in Kentucky.

Most of us were glad to learn that Robert Joyce finally built the fire in his furnace. Celebrating the Fourth of July in a rather different way, we think! And he did have to leave home, just as we suspected!!!

Mildred Hodges and party went to Lake Junaluska for a few days last week. Among exciting things that happened, it seems that Mildred and party went on a mountain hike and got caught in the rain. She had on a lovely pink dress that was not adapted to "California mist" and we hear it shrunk and shrunk!

Rebecca Pender has returned from a long week-end at Myrtle Beach. Her tan is something to envy and we don't mean maybe.

Mamie Burcham left the comforts of home last week for a tour of western North Carolina and Tennessee. We'll bet the scenery was well-worth missing the comforts of home for.

Ozelle Harter spent the week-end in Stuart, Va., with relatives. She looks mighty lonesome without Vernon (Francis) who is working in Dayton, Ohio, now.

Welcome Jean Steele, who has joined the Scheduling department. She makes quite a nice addition.

In case anyone is interested in those two planes that have roared over recently, gunning their motors, you might inquire of Gloria what she thinks.

Isn't it strange how people and even animals prefer soft rugs? Was that the reason for the closed doors and even one tied with string in the lower part of the office during Fourth of July week? If you like mysteries, you might call it "The Case of the Missing Cat!"

Bleachery News By Charlotte Martin

Well, now that vacation is over and we have come back to our jobs—I seem to get a little more news. Maybe what we need is more vacations, so I could have more news.

Mrs. Nannie Wigington visited her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Moss in Portsmouth, Va.

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Fisher and family visited relatives in Ohio and Indiana.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Buckner and small daughter, Janet Lee, visited relatives and friends in Asheville during vacation. Elaine says the mountains are a wonderful place to go.

Mabel Shuford and Mrs. M. C. Thomas visited relatives in Burnsville recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Luther and Mr. and Mrs. Duffy Westmoreland motored to Washington and through the valleys of Virginia. There must be something awfully interesting in Washington; think I'll go investigate.

Pictured here are the three daughters of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Overby, Sylvia, eight; Joan, five; and Glenda, three years old. Their father is employed at the Woolen Mill and their grandmother, Mrs. Pearl Earps, is employed in the Bleachery.

Mrs. Bessie Shockley and daughter, Margaret, visited relatives in High Point and Greensboro.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Brown and Mrs. Oscar Shockley and daughter visited friends and relatives in Candor and Biscoe, N. C.

Mrs. Rosa Bosox, of San Pedro, Calif., is visiting her sister, Mrs. Lynn Grogan, for a few days.

Mrs. Russell Richardson and Mr. and Mrs. Roger Myers spent the week with Mr. and Mrs. George Norris and daughter, Sandra, in Washington, D. C. They were accompanied home by the former's mother, Mrs. Myers, who will stay with her for a while.

Finishing Mill News By Beulah McBride

One week's vacation—everybody, we think, enjoyed it. You will find a few with peeling noses from different beaches.

The Biggs family was overjoyed when they heard Wednesday morning that S 3/c R. M. Biggs had returned from Abak, Alaska, with a discharge. It seems that the Alaska food suited him, the way he has gained weight. We all know Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Biggs are glad to have both their sons back with them.

Pfc. James C. Watson, who has served 15 months overseas, is home with his mother, Mrs. Belle Watson. We all understand why Belle is so happy.

Rufus Dix is back with us in the Napper room after serving sometime in service. Glad to have you back, Rufus.

G. H. Biggs has been promoted from section hand to assistant forman, Napping department.

Mr. and Mrs. Jonnie Plasters from Hartford, Conn., were the week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Tilley.

Those visiting out of town were: Mrs. Anna Newman spent a few days at Roanoke, Va., with her mother, Mrs. Vickie Bryant, who has been ill.

Mrs. Rivers Hundley and Miss Edna Morrison spent the week-end in Richmond.

Mr. and Mrs. Stafford Warren spent a few days in Bluefield, W. Va., visiting their son, Ophus Warren, and family.

Mrs. Elma Crews and daughter, Evelyn, spent the vacation week in Atlanta, Ga., visiting her mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Wright and children spent the week at Virginia Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. George Chandler spent the week in Newport News, Va.

Bobby Burnette from Richmond, Va., spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Burnette, of Draper.

Donna Lue Hughes from Arlington, Va., is spending her vacation with her aunt, Mrs. Sadie Brooks.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. McBride and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Comer from Stoneville spent the week at Carolina Beach.
