

Members of Karastan Mutual Aid Committee

The Mutual Aid Association at Fieldcrest Mills was organized in 1926. It is a voluntary organization, but virtually 100% of the employees are members. Its purpose is to provide hospitalization insurance for the members and their dependents. The Mutual Aid benefits cover the entire cost of most surgical cases and expenses in other situations requiring hospitalization such as maternity, etc.

Experience of the Association has shown that a majority of the benefits are paid for dependents. Many such plans provide for coverage of employees only and not dependents. However, it is felt that employees will have to pay the bills regardless of whether they or members of their family are confined to the hospital. Therefore, the Mutual Aid Association provides for protection for all dependents as well as the employee himself.

Two others members of the Karastan Unit Board were not present for photograph. They are W. O. Highfill, vice-chairman, and Virgil Hall.

Mill, U. S. Employment Service, Blue Bell, Inc., and others.

The Greensboro Area Association is a branch of the North Carolina Personnel Association. The next meeting of the group will be at the Bliss Restaurant in Greensboro, Thursday, November 2.
