Karastan Sales Div. Changes Announced

Several organization changes designed to further strengthen our Karastan Sales division were announced, effective January 1, by Walter B. Guinan, vice-president, rug sales.

H. H. Haig was promoted to the position of stylist and will devote his entire time to the styling and product development of our rug lines. E. J. Hanley succeeded Mr. Haig as salesman in the New England area and will make his headquarters in Boston.

Mr. Haig has been with Karastan since its establishment in April 1928 and has divided his attention during the past 15 years between the styling department and sales in the New England territory.

R. C. Mairs, Jr. was appointed to the Southern California territory, succeeding G. F. Smith, who has resigned.

B. L. Ahern succeeded Mr. Mairs and will make his headquarters in Minneapolis. Mr. Ahern came to Karastan from Cabin Craft where he handled the midwest territory.

R. W. Hudgins joined the Company December 1 to take over the Southwest territory of Karastan, succeeding J. A. McIntosh who was transferred to metropolitan New York January 1. Mr. Hudgins was formerly with the Titcher-Goettinger department store in Dallas.

Rug Carver Will Give Demonstration In N. Y.

Maudred Rickman, rug carver at Karastan, is at B. Altman & Company in New York this week to present demonstrations of rug carving in connection with the store's showing of the new Desert Collection line of carved rugs. After a week in New York she will go Paine's in Boston where she will give similar demonstrations.

She replaced Mrs. Kate Coleman who was unable to make the trip due to illness. In the picture above, Miss Rickman is shown with Virgil Hall, superintendent of Karastan, before leaving for New York.

Simpson Re-Named Mutual Aid Pres.

In the recent election of officers, directors and unit committeemen for the United Mutual Aid Association, Glenn Simpson was reelected president and Ray Warner and Louise Landress were reelected vice-president and secretary, respectively. Grissom Manley was elected treasurer succeeding C. B. Rakestraw who was not a candidate for reelection due to his approaching retirement.

Other members of the board of directors are Robert Adkins, Blanket; J. B. Reynolds, Karastan; Dan Squires, Sheeting; F. Wade Younts, Bedspread; Clarence Manley, Electric Blanket; and Maurice Rawlins, Central Warehouse. Unit committeemen were elected as follows:

General Office — Louise Landress, chairman; Norwood Cheek, Clarence Martin, C. C. Campbell, Cynthia Sherwood.

Bleachery—Glenn Simpson, chairman; Wilda Saunders, Eugene Purcell, C. S. Stanley, Charlie Luther.

Blanket Mill— Robert Adkins, chairman; C. L. Hodges, Paul Shropshire, John Yeatts, Floyd N. Strader.

Exemption Changes Should Be Reported

Employees who have had changes in the number of exemptions claimed for federal income tax deductions should notify the Payroll Department at once. The change in status should be reported on form W-4, which may be obtained from foremen or timekeepers.

All changes received by the Payroll Department in January will be put into effect. There will then be no further tax changes on the payroll until July 1. Employees are required by law to file a corrected form W-4 within 10 days after a change reducing the number of dependents to which he is entitled such as divorce, legal separation, dependents earning over $600, etc.

However, the law provides that
