

Fieldcresters . . . Social and Personal

Left to right, M. B., Jimmy, Larry and R. E. Newman

First Sons In Family For Four Generations

Representatives of four generations of the Newman family at Draper are shown in the picture above. Each is a first son. Three generations have been employed at Fieldcrest.

R. E. Newman, now retired under the pension plan, was for many years a weaver at the Blanket Mill. His son, M. B., is foreman of the shipping and receiving department at the Blanket Mill. His grandson, the Rev. Jimmy Newman, a Baptist minister now concluding his work at Southwestern Seminary, Fort Worth, Texas, some years ago worked in the Blanket cotton carding department and later in the Sheeting weave room.

Larry, Mr. Newman's great-grandson, is now about two years old but was younger when the picture was made. Larry's mother is the former Miss Patricia Barber of Draper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Barber, both of whom are employed in the Sheeting weave room.

Girl Hypnotist

(Continued from page one)

the United States and has studied magic in 11 different languages.

She has appeared in Europe, Australia, South America, and other foreign countries and members of royalty have been in her audience on numerous occasions. She has lectured before student and faculty groups and is the author of three books and currently is working on another, a textbook on hypnotism for doctors and medical students.

J. M. Norman, president of the Carolina Cooperative Council, in announcing the program, said the method of handling tickets and other details will be announced later.

CARD OF THANKS

I would like to take this opportunity to thank those friends who sent me the beautiful flowers and cards while I was a patient in the Tri-City Hospital.
Mrs. Buck McCollum

General Office News

By Hilda Grogan and Gladys Holland

Members of the Tabulating Dept., enjoyed a party Friday evening, November 9, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Kelly on Country Club Drive. The group enjoyed hamburgers served buffet style and later attended the Tri-City-Gray football game. Special guests were Robert H. Hair, of the Accounting Dept., and Mrs. Hair.

The girls of the General Office entertained Friday evening, November 2, at the Hut in Martinsville for Marjorie Rush and Helen Austin who have left the Company and for Julia Warren who has been transferred to the Raw Materials Purchasing Dept. Approximately 35 attended the farewell dinner.

Melba Crews entertained at her home on Highland Park Drive Monday evening, November 12, in honor of Mrs. Rush, Mrs. Austin, and Mrs. Warren. Approximately 25 girls from the General Office attended.

We welcome the following new-comers to the General Office:

Richard Whitlow of Rocky Mount, Va., assistant supervisor in the Tabulating Dept.;

Faye Flinchum, new secretary to E. L. Brown;

Larkin Baggett who has transferred from the Draper Cost Dept.

Nantucket Notes

By Patsy Barton and Lois Gillie

We welcome Joy Brame who has returned to work in the Mechanical Development Dept., and we miss Faye Flinchum who was transferred to the Comptroller's Dept.

A welcome also to Marie Chatham, a new-comer in the Chemical Laboratory, replacing Eleanor Thompson who was transferred to Industrial Relations.

A persuasive trio are Doris Brown, Lucille Ziglar, and Katherine Manley as they sell tickets on a fur scarf to be given away on Christmas Eve by Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority. For those who can't use a fur scarf, Jaycees Ed Clark, Walter Schacht, and Jim Covington are selling Christmas trees for the Christmas Cheer Fund.

Nantucket sportsmen A. G. Singleton, H. E. Williams, and Jim Robertson report good hunting (geese and ducks) at Lake Mattamuskeet last week. Other Fieldcresters on the hunt were C. A. Davis and Melvin Moore, of the Blanket Mill.

IN APPRECIATION

The family of the late Charlie W. Agee wish to express their deep appreciation for the many acts of kindness shown them during the recent illness and death of a loved one.

The C. W. Agee Family

Woman's Club Sets Anti-Litter Drive

The Leaksville-Spray Junior Woman's Club has embarked on a long-range anti-litter campaign in connection with the community clean-up and beautification program being conducted throughout the United States under auspices of Keep America Beautiful, Inc.

Mrs. Harvey Yoder, president of the local club, has appointed Mrs. Horace Penn as chairman of the anti-litter campaign in the Tri-Cities. Mrs. Billy Olive and Mrs. Welsford Bishopric were appointed as a publicity committee. The club seeks to enlist the aid of other women's groups as well as men's service clubs and organizations, school children and the general public in what is hoped to be a continuing campaign to prevent litter and to aid in the beautification of the Tri-Cities.

Mrs. Penn pointed out that the litter problem exists because of pre-packaged foods and candies and is growing because of the increased use of non-returnable containers for milk, soft drinks and other types of beverages. This is resulting in a deluge of paper cups, candy wrappers, soft drink bottles, beer cans, etc., which cover not only highways and city streets, but defile our national parks and local beauty spots.

Twenty-three manufacturers of many of these offending items have formed a society called "Keep America Beautiful". This group has set up an education fund of $400,000 to help the nation and individual communities attack the problem.

"No matter what our state or community is doing we, as individuals, can all educate our own families to roll up candy wrappers and keep them in our pockets until we get home; we can refrain from tossing out empty cigarette packages to the ground; we can all pick up after ourselves at the end of a picnic and none of us want our children stepping on broken bottles or crumpled beer cans," Mrs. Penn said.

"That is why we urge everyone in the community to help us fight the litter bug, for our own safety as well as for the ultimate beautification of the Tri-Cities," the anti-litter chairman added.

Fieldcresters

(Continued from page one)

certainly want to thank and compliment everyone who had a part in making the campaign such a success," Mr. Lucas said.

Richard Robertson, chairman of the over-all campaign, reported late last week that the Community Fund is approximately $2,500 short of its goal. After solicitors call on several dozen more individuals and firms the drive is expected to go over the top, he said.

FIELDCREST MILL WHISTLE