

Fieldcresters . . . Social and Personal

JACK WAYNE CROWDER

Wayne Crowder, one year old on February 18, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Crowder, Leaksville. Father is a Fieldcrest truck driver and mother, Irene, is employed in Tabulating Dept.

Maternal grandfather, Alvis Eanes, works in the Plant Service Dept. at the Finishing Mill. Paternal grandfather, J. H. Crowder, Sr., is a retired Bedsread Mill assistant foreman.

Young Wayne has a large number of aunts and uncles employed by our company.

Pete Barham Winner Of Sportsmanship Award

Pete Barham, former Tri-City high school football star, was awarded the Phil Harris Sportsmanship Trophy, given annually for all around achievement in sports at Wake Forest College. The award was presented by Wake Forest athletic director Bill Gibson at half-time of the Temple-Wake Forest basketball game in Memorial Coliseum, Winston-Salem, February 19.

Pete starred on the 1954 Tri-City team as quarterback and led the Panthers to a fine 6-2-2 record. In his junior year at Wake Forest he was second string quarterback to Charlie Carpenter. During the past season he was moved to halfback and proved to be one of Wake Forest's best ground gainers.

Pete is a son of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Barham, of Leaksville. His father is foreman of winding and setting at the Karastan Rug Mill.

Let love be without dissimulation. Abhor that which is evil; cleave to that which is good.—ROMANS 12:9.

Lions Club At Fieldale Plans Minstrel Show

The Fieldale Lions club, composed mainly of Towel Mill men, will sponsor a minstrel show Saturday evening, March 29, in the Fieldale high school auditorium.

R. D. Hundley, general chairman, is being assisted by several committees in arranging for the show. Paul Zimmerman will be master of ceremonies and talent committee chairman. Lewis Compton will be the interlocutor. Ralph Pickup is chairman and Don Rice co-chairman of the ticket committee.

Chairmen of other committees are R. A. Youngman, publicity; Conrad Alley, chairman, and Howard Joyce, co-chairman, advertisements; Jim Wade, prizes; Jack Norris, Sr., stage.

A meeting of all Fieldale Lions and endmen was held at the Community Center Friday evening, February 14, to plan the program.

Pfc. R. M. Donaldson Is Academy Graduate

Pfc. Ronald M. Donaldson, son of Clyde G. Donaldson, Towel Mill weave room, recently was graduated from the Berlin Command Non-Commissioned Officer Academy in Germany.

Regularly assigned as a wire team chief in the 6th Infantry Regiment's 2nd Battalion Headquarters Co., Donaldson

Glamor Department

In our glamor corner this issue is Peggy Judge, secretary to C. E. Moulton, manager of our sheet sales department in New York. Peggy's charms won for her a place on Macy's float in the Christmas parade. She was a page on the "Arabian Nights" float which featured Margaret O'Brien. Peggy was employed by the Ford Foundation before joining Fieldcrest.

received instruction in leadership, map reading and other military subjects. He entered the army in October, 1956, and arrived in Europe the following March.

Retired Couple Celebrate 50th Anniversary

MR. AND MRS. RICHARDSON

Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Richardson, both of whom are retired under the Fieldcrest Pension Plan, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on a recent Sunday afternoon with an "open house" at their home on Burton Street, Leaksville. A large number of relatives and friends called during the afternoon.

Mr. Richardson, a native of Stokes county, and Mrs. Richardson, the former Miss Nora Duggins, also of Stokes county, were married at Mayodan in 1908. They moved to Leaksville in 1923. Mr. Richardson went to work in the slashing department at the Bedsread Mill and Mrs. Richardson in the winding department at the old Athena Mill.

Transferred to Karastan Mill

Mr. Richardson continued at the Bedsread Mill until 1939 when he became a beamer tender at the Karastan Rug Mill. He continued in the latter classification until his retirement under the Pension Plan June 1, 1951.

Mrs. Richardson, after working briefly at the Athena Mill, was transferred to the Bedsread Mill. She was a winder hand there until her retirement under the Pension Plan December 1, 1955.

The Richardsons have one son, Edward C. Richardson, who married the former Miss Virginia McConnell, who worked in the Fieldcrest Personnel Department some years ago, and a grandson, Jimmie Chip, five years old. Both Mr. and Mrs. Richardson are charter members of the Leaksville Moravian Church. Two of Mrs. Richardson's brothers, W. F. Duggins and T. R. Duggins, are long-service employees of the Karastan Rug Mill.