25-Year Club Picnic Set For Saturday

Over 1100 Long-Service Employees Eligible To Attend Annual Outing

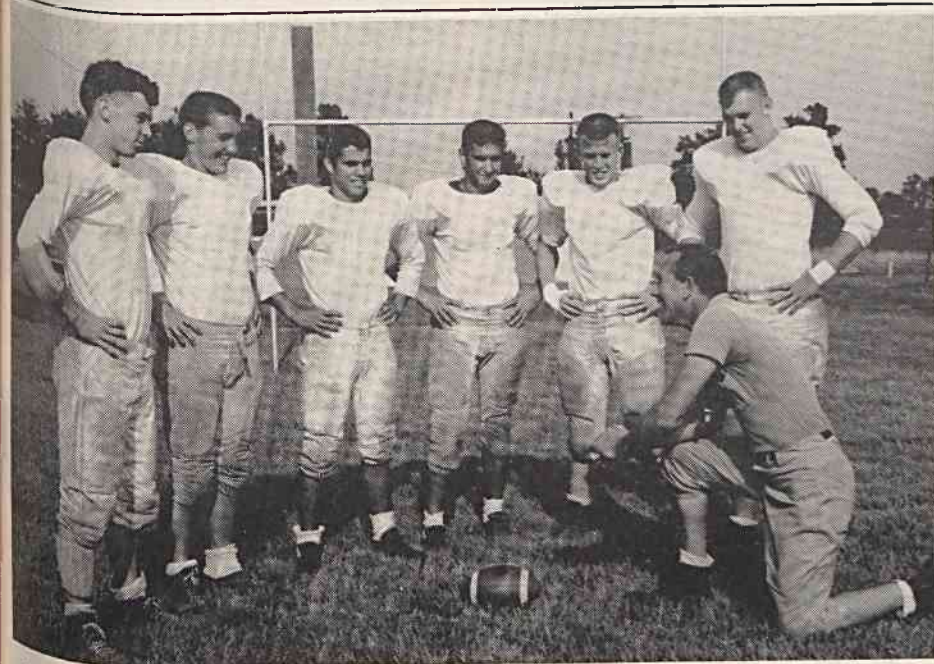

A large attendance is expected at the 16th annual Fieldcrest Mills 25-Year Club picnic to be held in Morehead Stadium Saturday afternoon, September 13, starting at 3:30 o'clock. Reports indicate wide interest among the more than 1100 members eligible to attend.

Invitations were sent out late last week to all present members and to the 204 new members who will be coming into the club this year. No ticket is being used this year since members will be admitted by a lapel identification badge which was enclosed with each invitation.

Committees have been at work for some time on making arrangements for the picnic. The program will include music, games, valuable attendance prizes, and an attractive display of some of the Company's newest products.

President Harold W. Whitcomb will present greetings and remarks and is expected to discuss the operations of the Company and the outlook for the business in the future. Robert A. Harris,

Training Courses Open Sept. 15

Another in the series of fall and winter training courses for mill supervisors at the North Carolina mills will open the week beginning September 15.

Courses and the instructors are as follows: Cost Control, taught by J. E. Wilkins, head of the Cost Department; Electricity, taught by E. R. Mills, electrical engineer, Automatic Blanket Mill; Human Relations, taught by J. E. Gardner, assistant director of personnel research; and Chemistry, taught by N. F. Young, assistant superintendent of the Bleachery.

Organized by our Training Department, the courses will again be under the joint auspices of Fieldcrest Mills and the Vocational Education Division of the North Carolina Department of Public Instruction. The State will issue certificates to enrollees who complete a course.

All of the courses above will be given in the Training Department conference room in the General Offices building. In addition, the course in Human Relations will be given in the conference room at the Towel Mill for supervisors at Fieldale. Each course will consist of approximately 10 two-hour sessions held at weekly intervals. All classes will meet at night, from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m.

The starting dates for courses in the North Carolina area are as follows: Cost Control, Monday, September 15; Electricity, Tuesday, September 16; Human Relations, Wednesday, September 17; Chemistry, Thursday, September 18. The course in Human Relations for Towel Mill supervisors will open Monday night, September 15.

Blood Donors Wanted

From time to time there are calls for blood for employees or members of their families who are in the local hospital. Often, time is lost because there is no systematic way of securing donors.

To remedy this situation, the Fieldcrest Mills Medical Department will set up a centralized record of the available donors. Employees who are willing to give blood occasionally are asked to telephone the Medical Department and give their name and blood type.

Why not call the Medical Department today? Not only will you be helping someone else whose need is great, but you will also help assure that blood donors will be available for yourself or some member of your family who may require it.
