

Fieldcresters... Social, Personal

New Handicraft Is Attracting Interest

Another handicraft has caught the fancy of Fieldcresters. It is making articles from pine needles. The most popular articles are trays, basket and hand bags.

Katherine Manley, receptionist at the General Offices, has made a hand bag using long pine needles and raffia. She covered it with a clear shellac and topped it with wood fiber primroses. She can change the decoration to other flowers or fruit, getting any color she wants.

Katherine worked on the bag for about a month in her spare time, and had some assistance from her mother, Mrs. J. W. Ward. A completed bag normally represents about 40 hours of painstaking work.

A friend who is a member of the Ruffin Home Demonstration Club made one of the bags and Katherine saw it. She had the friend to instruct her in making one and she used the friend's hand bag to go by.

A number of others in the Company are interested in the handicraft and are starting to make trays of pine needles. They'll work up to making the hand bags. Katherine says she started at the top and made the bag first. From now on, though, she says she'll work only on the simpler articles.

Good Fishing Luck For Sheeting Retiree

Ben Brown, retired Sheeting Mill employee, shows some of the specimens he caught recently while he and Mrs. Brown were fishing in John Chaney's lake near Halifax, Va. The catfish weighed five pounds and the carp, three and one-half pounds. The fish were caught with Red Wiggler worms which Mr. Brown raises for sale at his home on the old Ferry road, Draper.

Mr. Brown retired under the Fieldcrest Pension Plan April 1, 1956, after 34 years of continuous service with the Company.

Towel Mill Honors Top Weavers, Fixers

To encourage quality and efficiency in the weave room, the Towel Mill singles out for recognition the weavers and loomfixers with the best quality records.

The "Weavers of the Week" are those with the lowest percentage of seconds with respect to the standards for various loom groups.

The "top" loomfixers are determined through a combination of low seconds and high loom efficiency on the sections for which they are responsible.
