Laurelcrest Employees Buy Safety Shoes

An outstanding 91 percent of the Laurelcrest Carpet Plant employees bought safety shoes at the recent safety shoe clinic held at the mill. Of the 239 employees sized at the plant in Laurel Hill, 218 purchased one or more pairs of safety shoes.

A breakdown of the purchases showed that 199 pairs were ordered and 111 pairs delivered at the clinic, conducted by Floyd N. Strader, of the Blanket Mill Office, Eden. Mr. Strader, for the Fieldcrest Safety Department, handles the fitting of the shoes at all clinics and the training of the safety shoe representatives at the respective mills.

Kenneth R. Baggett, Fieldcrest safety director, in commenting on the clinic at Laurel Hill, said:

"There was tremendous interest in the program, indicating that the employees recognized the benefits of safety shoes and realized that they were getting a good buy."

Fashion Show Will Be Given At State Fair

fashion show at 2 p.m. and 7 p.m. throughout the week, and on Saturday there will be showings at 11 a.m., 2 p.m. and 7 p.m.

June Mohler, of New York, Fieldcrest's manager of publicity and sales training, will have charge of the fashion show. She will be assisted by persons from Eden and Columbus, Ga., and by employees' daughters who are attending college in Raleigh. Models will be furnished by the Raleigh Jayettes.

The show consists of dresses, bathing suits, sunclothes and loungewear designed by 15 leading American couturiers from materials actually used in Fieldcrest domestics products.

The creations include bedspreads turned into jumpsuits, shower curtains into evening gowns, towels into just about everything. There's even an automatic blanket-turned-mini coat that winks as well as warms. In addition, a number of the outfits highlight do-it-yourself designs from commercial patterns.

The mode by which the inevitable comes to pass is effort.
