

Robert L. Moore, left, general chairman of the Fieldcrest United Fund campaign, accepts one of the winning names drawn for prizes among employees who contributed a day's pay. Mill representatives who attended the drawing are, left to right, Virginia Stewart, Sheet Finishing; Grady Chaney, Sheeting Mill; David Turner, Blanket Warehouse; Margie Wood, Bedspread Finishing; Sanford Odell, Non-Woven Mill; Irene Grogan, Blanket Finishing; Lawrence W. Cox, Karastan Rug Mill; Velva Smart, Blanket Mill; and Alberlene Manley, Karastan Rug Mill.

23 Employees Receive Prizes In UF Day's Pay Drawings

Marian M. Moore of the Bedspread Finishing Mill was the grand prize winner in drawings held for Fieldcrest employees who gave a day's pay to the Eden United Fund. She received a 23-inch color television set. The names of all employees, mill and staff, who contributed a day's pay to the fund were included in the grand prize drawing.

Other drawings were held for $15 gift certificates good for any purchase at the Fieldcrest Store. These were also drawn from names of employees who had given a day's pay. Winners of the certificates were:

Blanket Operation—May T. Hill, Harold K. Tinsley, Catherine V. Tinsley, Walter H. Lampkins, Henry W. James, Margaret J. Crawford and Roar L. Dishmon.

Sheeting Operation—Jessie L. Clark, Carrie H. Chaney, Linda G. Belton and Carl M. Hairston.

Bedspread Operation—Howard Scales, James P. Ellington, Jr., Marjorie B. Wood and Estelle C. Bell.

Karastan—Annie J. Peters, Dorothy D. Brown, Stella S. Martin, Lorinda N.

Martin and Ellen B. Heffinger.

Staff Departments—Sam B. Rhodes, Jr. and Amos S. Hayes, Jr.

The drawings, held at the Fieldcrest Store, were conducted by R. L. Moore, general chairman of the United Fund campaign for Fieldcrest. He was assisted in the drawings by Edward S. Barksdale of General Offices and Jack Jarrett of Draper Personnel. Employees representing the various mills were present and participated in the drawings.

United Fund

(Continued from Page One)

Certificate of Merit from the Eden United Fund for day's pay contributions by 100 percent of the employees.

Blanket Mill — salaried employees, Stock Dyeing Department, Wool Picking Department, Wool Carding Department, Cotton Picking Department, Inspecting Department and Superintendent's Office; Blanket Finishing Mill—Piece Dye Department; Blanket Warehouse—Film Bag Department; Non-Woven Blanket Mill—all employees; and Sheeting Mill—Picking Department.

Finance and Accounting Department—Auditing, Blanket Mill Accounting, Sheeting Mill Accounting and Budgets; Industrial Relations Department—Canteen, Employee Benefits and Employment Office; Engineering Department—general staff, Filter Plant, Scrubbing, Yard Crew and janitors.

Industrial Engineering—central staff, Leaksville area, Spray area and Draper area; Purchasing—Fieldcrest Store and truck drivers; and Technical Services—Domestics Quality Control, Domestics Product Development and Pilot Plant.

25-Yr. Club Hears Jackson

(See Pictures On Page Eight)

Arthur L. Jackson, vice president-domestics manufacturing, addressed members of the 25-Year Club of the Blanket Operation, General Offices and Specials at their annual meeting November 1 in the Draper Junior High School auditorium.

Mr. Jackson told the 25-Year members, "You are really the backbone of our Company. You help in training young people and telling them what Fieldcrest stands for."

He then stressed the pride of the Company in the Blanket Operation employees, citing in particular their efforts in making changes and adjusting to new methods and new fibers.

Mr. Jackson discussed some of the recent capital expenditures and said, "Our Company continues to progress this year and 1970 should be a good year for Fieldcrest and its employees. We are better prepared to serve our customers and with your help will continue in this same manner."

N. F. Young, manager of the Blanket Operation, presided at the meeting. He had the new members and the retired members of the 25-Year Club stand for recognition.

He then introduced the "Blue Grass Partners" who provided the entertainment. Playing a variety of country music songs, the "Blue Grass Partners" had a very attentive audience.

Attendance prizes were drawn for, with W. F. Crumley, superintendent of the Blanket Mill, presiding over the drawings. Blankets were given to Roy M. Carter, Irva T. Hopkins, Daisy L. Chambers and Paul J. Minter.

Blankets were also given to the oldest and youngest members present. Bert Weaver won for being the oldest member, and Frances Compton received the prize for being the youngest 25-Year Club member present.

R. J. Adkins gave the invocation and everyone then went to the cafeteria for luncheon.