Withholding System Masks Big 'Tax Bite'

If every taxpayer in the country had to pay his income taxes just once a year in cash, the roar of rage and pain could probably be heard in outer space.

The system of withholding taxes from wages earned lulls us into a state of apathy and often we aren't aware of our tax bite. Since we don't get hold of the money in the first place, its easy not to realize the enormity of the burden.

Back in the days before the "withholding" scheme was cooked up, taxpayers did have to come up with the cash each spring. And this served to make them aware of the high cost of government—even though it was small compared to today.

Every citizen should know that spending by all governments in the United States (federal, state and local combined) rose by 9.1 percent to an all-time high of $308 billion during the 1968-1969 fiscal year.

And the staggering size of this burden should constantly remind us to demand and work for economy in government.

Safety is taking care of yourself.
