W.R. Peters Receives DSA Award

W. R. Peters, production control manager, Bedspread Finishing Mill, was recently awarded the Distinguished Service Award by the Eden Jaycees.

He received the award at the annual DSA Bosses Night Banquet.

He is a past president (1974-75), and past vice president (1973-74). He joined the organization in 1969, and due to the age limit, this will be his last year.

Also active in the Boy Scouts, Mr. Peters is a member of the Leaksville United Methodist Church and a Sunday school teacher. He is a member of the board of directors of the Eden United Fund.

In discussing his interest in the Jaycees, he said, "The Jaycee organization is an excellent way for young men to gain good leadership training and it also gets them involved in community activities."

He said the Eden Jaycees were instrumental in the consolidation of the Tri-Cities, Leaksville, Spray and Draper into the city of Eden. The Jaycees also sponsor the annual Christmas Parade, the Fourth of July Celebration and the Empty Stocking Fund.

On a state-wide basis, the organization's main project is the Jaycee Burn Center to be constructed in Chapel Hill. An annual jelly sale is one of the ways they are raising money for the center. Construction is set to ployees and their dependents and for pensions to the company's 1,952 retired employees. A majority of the retired employees live in the Eden area.

The foregoing figures do not include capital expenditures for land, buildings, machinery or equipment.

Money spent for purchase of goods and services from local firms and expenditures for raw materials also are excluded.

The figures apply only to Eden and Rockingham County and do not include any money paid out at other manufacturing locations or in the sales divisions.

One Year Old

John Elbert Coleman, III, was one year old on February 3. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Coleman, Jr., of Stoneville. His mother, Maria, is employed in the Drape Department at the Bedspread Finishing Mill.

Revenue Bonds

by new industries into the treasuries of city, county and state government.

—a cleaner environment resulting from the reduction of industrial pollution.

—a statewide improvement of the economy and standard of living with a reduction in the number of young people who leave North Carolina for opportunities in other states.

At no cost to the taxpayer, the bonds are expected to help the overall economy of an area by bringing in new industry, expansion of existing industry, and generally increased prosperity.

Three Years Old

Susan Marie Willmon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Willmon, celebrated her third birthday on December 10. Her father is employed at the Blanket Finishing Mill. Her mother, Liz, works at the Sheet Finishing Mill.
