

1,000 Attend Alexander Picnic

The annual picnic for Alexander Sheeting employees and their families was held in October at Cedar Park. Approximately 1,000 people attended.

Master of ceremonies for the event was George Howard, area personnel manager. W. F. Crumley, division vice president-sheet manufacturing, expressed Fieldcrest's appreciation to Alexander employees for their fine work and cooperation throughout the year.

Retired employees and 25-Year Club members were welcomed to the picnic by George Jolley, plant manager.

A wide variety of midway games along with the moon walk, high striker and lots of popcorn and sno cones were enjoyed by those present.

A meal of barbecue, barbecued chicken, french fries, cole slaw, rolls, coffee and tea was served.

Main door prizes were won by Lawrence Hawkins, Weave Room; Vera Martin, Spinning; Thomas Coker, retiree; Jim Greene, spinning; and James White, Industrial Engineering.

This young lady apparently hit the jackpot in the midway games.

The moon walk was popular with these two young men.

The meal was served in the pavillion.

Just watching was lots of fun, too.

Although she looks rather pensive, four-year old Shawn is apparently enjoying her Sno cone. She is the grandda Inez Womack, Weave Room.
