

Where

No matter where you live or where you go, you are likely to see a Fieldcrest truck somewhere along the highway.

These trucks literally cover the country, transporting goods manufactured by Fieldcrest to many different destinations.

With 18 over-the-road (long distance) drivers logging approximately 2 million miles a year, the Fieldcrest fleet daily covers 100,000 miles to and from every Fieldcrest manufacturing unit, transporting both raw materials on their way to be further processed into finished products, and finished products en route either directly to customers or to the company's various service centers.

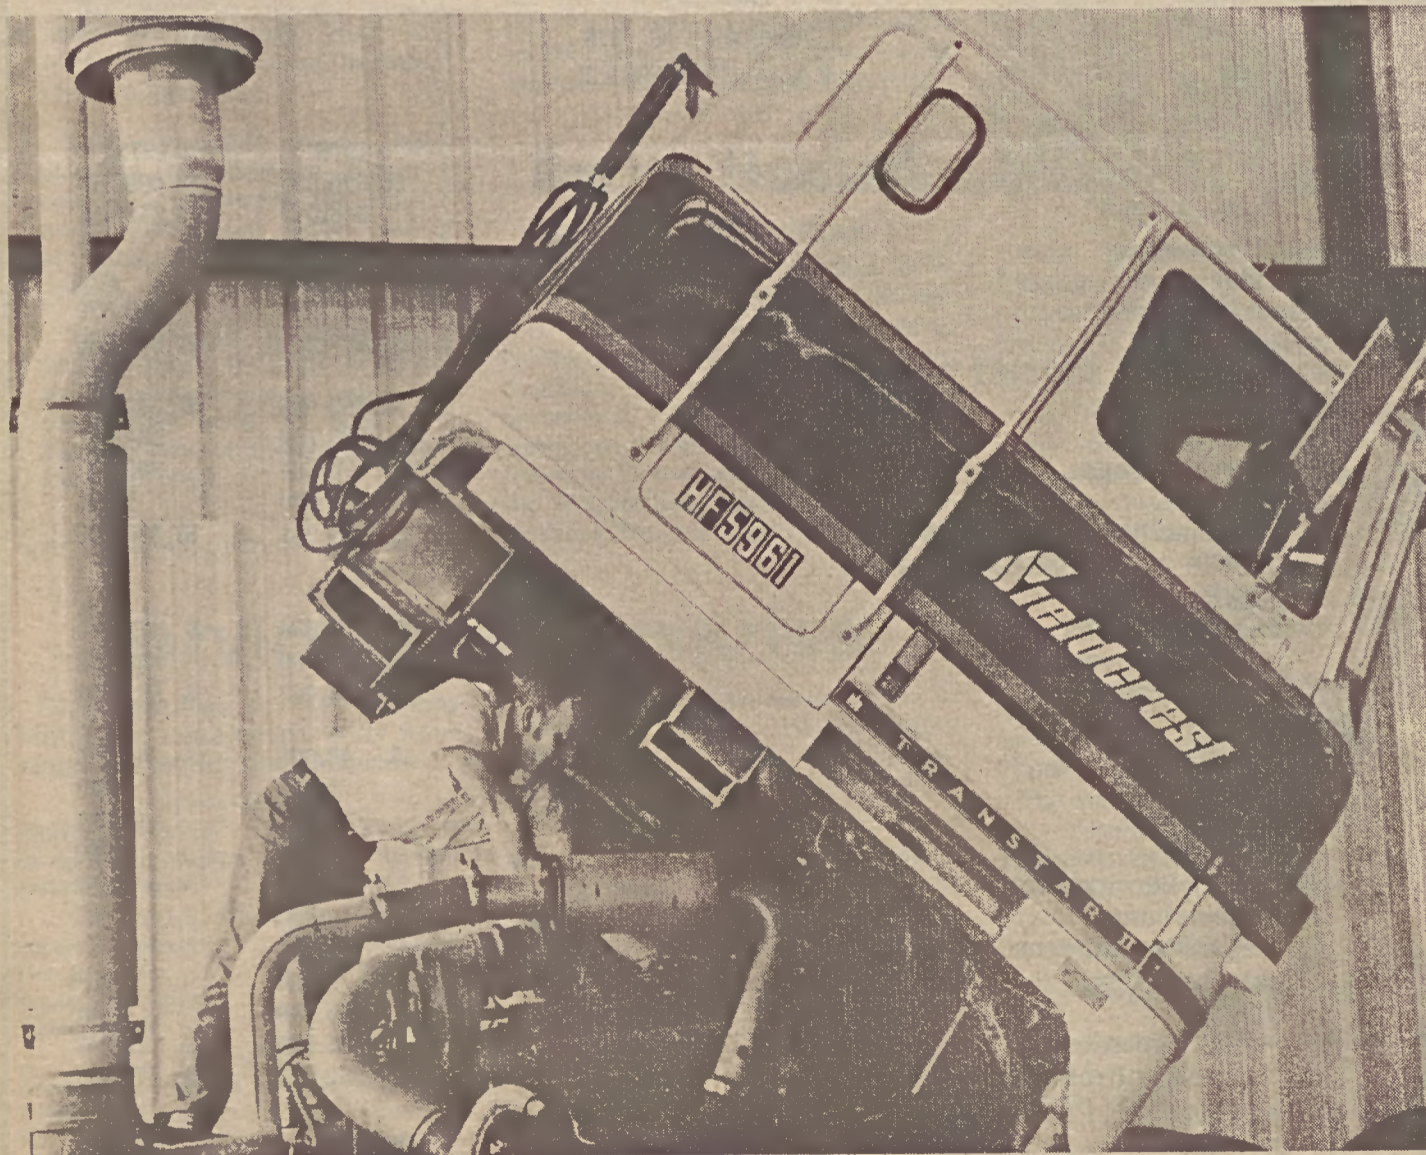

Ready and waiting, these trucks will soon be loaded and sent to various parts of the country.

Nancy Gwarek, secretary, keeps everything moving smoothly.

THE MILL WHIST

Bobby Pegram, shop foreman, checks out a tractor in preparation for another trip.