A Fine Time For Fishing!

Byron Windham (right) and Malie Proffitt (left) may be the envy of every Fieldcrest employee who dreams of spending a weekday or several down at the ol' fishing hole.

Windham, a retiree of Columbus Towel Mill, and Proffitt, a retiree of the Blanket Greige Mill, were each presented with a fishing rod and reel in February at separate surprise retirement parties hosted by their fellow employees.

Windham's surprise party was held at the company lake in Phenix City, Ala.; the perfect setting to practice using his new tackle box and rod and reel.

Proffitt was surprised by his colleagues when he received a variety of retirement gifts including the fishing rod and reel, a chef's hat and apron and a Fieldcrest blanket.

Believe It Or Not!

If you're worried about stretching your paycheck from week to week and remembering the good old days, think again! Those days may look better in memories than they actually were.

Fieldcrest wages have certainly gone up since this paycheck (above) was issued in 1937. The amount, $10.30, was a week's pay and even then there were deductions for insurance, retirement and community funds.

Maybe THESE days aren't so bad after all!

JACQUELYN E. FULLER

Fuller On Dean's List

Jacquelyn E. Fuller, recipient of a Fieldcrest grant, recently was honored for her academic achievement at Elon College. She was named to the dean's list for the Fall semester, 1977.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Junior D. Fuller, of Axton, Va. Her father is a bleach range operator at Fieldale Towel Mill.

Correction

Frank Adkins of the Blanket Greige Mill and Lillie Roberts of Draper Sheeting Mill have 45 years of continuous service with the company and not 40 years as incorrectly stated in the last edition of the Mill Whistle. Howard Hyler, Jr. joined the company in 1938 and not 1933.

The Mill Whistle apologizes for these errors.
