Rev. Dr. Jones and lady returned from the Centennial last week. Mr. Sloan, our Tom, remains there yet.

TEAS.—WHOLESALE AND RETAIL.—J. W. Scott & Co., have just received direct from the Importers a nice lot of Teas—guaranteed good strength and fine flavor; Not low priced trashy goods.

The intensely warm weather has broken, and now it is really pleasant. Cover is in requisition at night and the rest of sleep is really refreshing. So balmy is our atmosphere at this time that the health of our city was never better.

Greensboro now boasts the handsomest, best furnished and fitted Express Office in the State. So airy and convenient is everything that business is a real pleasure. It is a blessing to the Company that they have made "Uncle Bob" and "Capt. Bob" fixtures of that office.

Let it not be forgotten in these dull times that a penny saved is two pennies made. Determined to "do as he would be done by," Bogart keeps his goods so low that all can buy; and as an evidence of public appreciation his stock has to be replenished weekly to meet the demands upon it. Almost anything in the line of Dry Goods can be found at 44—BOGART'S.

RAIN.—The reports from various sections of the State show a great need of rain, in many sections the crops actually dying for want of moisture. Saturday night of last week a refreshing rain fell here, and continued on Sunday greatly to the advantage of our growing crops. All nature, animate and inanimate, seemed revived.

Prof. W. H. Neave, of Salisbury, an eminent musician says that a State brass band is needed composed of the best talent in the various bands in North Carolina.

The Teachers' Normal School, which has been in session here for the past month, closed its labors on last Friday. This was a voluntary coming together of all the teachers of the State for the purpose of interchanging ideas as to the best modes of teaching, text books &c., interspersed with lectures on various subjects. They all expressed themselves highly pleased and will attend next year. A large number of our citizens attended regularly and were highly entertained.

The flattering Patronage awarded to Chamberlain's Jewelry emporium during the holidays has induced him to keep his stock complete, and he is constantly receiving invoices of new and elegant Jewelry, Silver and Fancy Ware, and will take great pleasure in exhibiting his beautiful designs to any who may call. Personal attention to fine Watch-work and the manufacture of Special Jewelry. 35—

This Section of country is flooded with peddlers trying to sell 'goots so cheap as never was' and strange to tell a great many of our people buy from them, when by coming to the city the same goods can be bought for a great deal less money. Last Sunday one of these knights of the road made repeated efforts to get freight out of the Express office, stating that it was a case of necessity—as he wanted to sort, pack and arrange his goods so as to be ready for Mondays travel. It is needless to say that he did not get the package as the company neither receive or deliver freight on Sunday.

DIED.—Near Princeton, N. C. May 15th 1876, Mrs. Sallie Ann, wife of Rev. Sam'l H. Brady of the Primitive Baptist church.

Our State authorities have been written to by W. N. Holt, book-keeper of the Wilmington shipping house of Vick & Mebane, to furnish a correct impression of the coat of arms of this State. It is wanted by a shipping firm in Liverpool, England, trading with Wilmington who are building a vessel they wish to baptize with the name of North Carolina. In heraldic circles our coat of arms is blazoned in sundry different ways, and our English friends are desirous to have a correct and authentic copy to paint, as is usual, upon the stern of the vessel. The letter was addressed to D. W. Bain, the esteemed chief clerk of the treasury department, for reference to the proper official.—Sentinel.

AN OLD FASHIONED REMEDY.—The Sun cholera mixture many years ago proved very efficacious in freeing people from diseases incident to this season. Here is the prescription. Tinct. opii. tinct. capsici. tinct. rhei co. tinct. menth pip., tinct. campho. Mix equal parts each. In plain English, it consists of equal parts of tincture of opium, red pepper, rhubarb, peppermint and camphor. It is the best remedy extant for summer complaint, diarrhoea, cramps in the bowels and similar ailments, and almost instant relief. The dose is from three to ten drops for a child, according to age, and ten to thirty drops for an adult, according to the severity of the attack.

DRUGS.—In passing down the street the other day we accidentally stepped into the Laboratory of our energetic young Druggists, Callum Bros., and were surprised to find to what extent they were manufacturing and boxing up, in one doz. boxes, for Fall trade, Carolina Chill Cure, Eye Water, Pile Lotion, Cleansing Cream, Jam. Ginger, Southern Tonic Bitters, Paregoric, Laudanum, all kinds Essences, Hair Oils, &c. Any and all of these goods, they can and will sell as low as any reliable Drug House in this or any other country. The goods are all full strength and prepared by a Scientific Pharmacist of an experience of over thirty-five years. County merchants and others would do well to give them a trial. Their terms are 'cash, and consequently they will sell at cash prices. They also have Buist's New Crop Turnip Seed,—fresh and reliable.

The Orphans of Oxford and Asheville.

Remember the orphans at Oxford when you offer your prayers to-day. More than a hundred poor children, who were growing up into ignorant and vicious manhood and womanhood, are now in charge of faithful and efficient teachers who are guiding their once erring feet in the paths of wisdom and virtue. This work is entirely dependent on the voluntary contributions of the people. In these times of political excitement and financial distress many have forgotten the orphans. About twenty children have been discharged and two forms are heard by advanced orphans. The most rigid economy has been enforced and expenses have been reduced about twenty-five per cent., but there is a point beyond which economy cannot go. Food and clothing are indispensable, and Solomon says: "money answereth all things." He was certainly a man of sound judgement and excellent sense.

The orphan work in Asheville is at this time beset with serious difficulties. The liberal donation of Rev. L. M. Pease included some valuable land but no house. The orphans by permission, occupied the "Newton academy buildings" on the adjacent lot. But unexpectedly an old judgment was revived and the property, worth thousands of dollars, was sold for twenty dollars. The purchaser is a widow who has notions of her own and is not now willing to say what she will do. The new school rooms are on the Pease property, and Mr. Pease will in a few days propose a plan of operations. The orphans must either secure a permanent foothold at Asheville or return to Mars Hill. The Mars Hill property is now used as an infirmary for children not able to work or study. The health of this place is truly wonderful. All the children sent there have improved. Some, who went there apparently to die, have recovered and are robust and vigorous. Dr Isaac L. Williams gives them his kind and constant attention.—Ral Sentinel.
