On Tuesday night, January 15, the men's basketball team defeated Limestone College's JV team 107-63. "It was a hard game to get motivated for because we beat them by 24 points earlier in the year," Coach McNamara stated.

"The first half was a close game with the score 42-37 by halftime. With 18 minutes left in the second half the score was 43-41 and the team began to realize they were

The women's basketball team reopened their season with a win against Bennet College Tuesday night. At halftime the Lady Cavs were losing 20-29, but came back to win the game 64-48.

"They were a big physical team, that played a physical game," Coach Bostic stated. "This was a good victory for us. It was the first game that everyone was back healthy. It boosted our morale," Coach Bostic stated.

"In the first half a lot of missed free throws hurt us, but in the second half we started playing our game-which is uptempo push the ball.

Cavalier Spotlight

By Rose A. O'Shields

In this week's Cavalier spotlight we will site Greg Pounds as the outstanding player of the week. Pounds, a member of the Montreat-Anderson College Men's Basketball Team is from Danville, Virginia. Though Pounds makes the game of basketball seem quite easy, with his average scoring of 17 points per game, Greg does state that much hard work and practice is involved.

In addition to being athletically inclined, he has also maintained a very respectable G.P.A. in academics. His average is a 2.6, which is above the minimum 2.0 required to participate in basketball. Greg plans to graduate in May with the A.S. degree. After graduation he hopes to attend University of Virginia. Greg is planning to major in communications and hopefully, after a career as a pro player, he hopes to go into television broadcasting.

Greg stated, "I am glad I came to M-AC, as it has made a change in my life. You have to study here. At a big school there would be a lot of distractions." When asked about his favorite part of the game, Pounds replied "Basketball makes me feel like I am free because on the court I can do whatever I want to do."

Even though he has certainly proved himself on and off the court, Greg states he has butterflies in his stomach before every game but the adrenalin starts flowing and he wants to go the extra mile. When Greg explodes on the court everyone gets pumped up. Greg is definitely on top. Concerning losing, well that doesn't often happen to Greg but if it does, he handles it and usually bounces back to win.
