

Cavalier Basketball Update

The Lady Cavaliers defeated Covenant College in an exhilarating game on Monday Feb. 19. Throughout the course of the game the Lady Cavs kept the pace with a good margin above Covenant, and defeated them with a final score of 78-67. This victory was the first in the N.C.C.A.A. District Tournament. If the Cavaliers win the next game they will move into the semi-finals.

The next ladies' tournament game will be Tuesday, Feb. 20, against King College at Bristol Tenn. The Cavaliers hope to return to campus with another victory under their belt. As one Montreat student stated, "They played better than I've ever seen them play—it was a great game!" Players of the Cavalier team also felt they performed well; as Judy Davis stated, the game was "Incredible!" We played real well as a team. Everybody was into it."

Saturday, February 16, the Cavalier men's basketball team lost to King College by 21 points. Although defeated, this game was highly exciting and showed many aspects of the team's basketball skills. Fans are encouraged to attend the next home game which will be Saturday, Feb 23, at 3:00 p.m. against Louisville.

Cavliers vs. Brevard
Photo By: Mark Tucker

Heat Water and Laundry

The Aletheia has received many requests to publish an article about the heat, hot water, and laundry facilities in the dorms. Before we may do so, we need a brief statement of details which might be compiled into an article. These would not only point out faults, but also offer solutions to these inconveniences. One might also remember that all mischievous damage inflicted to college buildings require time from the maintenance crew, who might otherwise be working on, or repairing the aforementioned problems.

--Editor Staff

King For a Day

Dr. Don King is truly one of the finest professors teaching. Originally from Virginia Beach, VA, Dr. King along with his wife and four children, now call Black Mountain home. Dr. King stayed involved in athletics in his youth, more specifically surfing. Can you imagine Dr. King saying: "That was one rad tube, Dude!" He attended Virginia Tech, where he had intended to earn an engineering degree. Instead, he ended up receiving a degree in English Literature. He went to graduate school in South Illinois University at Carbondale, Illinois.

Dr. King first became interested in literature in the 8th grade, where he enjoyed reading Sherlock Holmes and the works of Edgar Allen Poe. At that time, never did he think he would become an English teacher. Dr. King came to Montreat-Anderson in 1974, and taught here for five years before deciding to get his PhD. in 1979. He attended the University of North Carolina at Greensboro for one year before returning to teach. He completed his graduate work in 1985. He says that this was a challenging experience for him.

Dr. King enjoys teaching at Montreat because of the student body. He calls himself a perennial student, because as he teaches, he also learns from the students themselves. He enjoys working with his colleagues and being around many Christian brothers and sisters.

Naj Alicea

UpFront and Personal

Dr. King has other interests besides literature and teaching; like playing tennis and gardening—he loves beautiful flowers. His personal yearly goal is to write a professional article and get it published. He's also part of the C.S. Lewis Society.

Dr. King has certainly done a lot to inspire many students. He is truly a favorite among all of us.

The Aletheia Weekly

Published weekly by the Student Activities Committee of Montreat-Anderson College, Montreat, N.C. 28757. Advertising rates are available upon request.

- Editor..... Ken Schmidt
- Ass't Editors..... Shannon Hodgins
Matthew Hailey
John Ireland
- Business Manager..... Kim Silliman
- Staff Photographer..... Mark Tucker
- Staff Writers..... Shayna Siekkienen
Sarah Whitecotton
Susan Long
Justin Ramb
Traci Folk
Naj Alicea
Paulette Mixon
Rose Ann O'Shields

Circulation: 600 Weekly