Eat More Ice Cream

FROM PRESIDENT HURT

Tucked away in our subconscious is an idyllic vision. We see ourselves on a long trip that spans the continent. We are traveling by train. Out the windows we drink in the passing scene of cars on nearby highways, of children waving at the crossing, of cattle grazing on a distant hillside, of smoke pouring from a power plant, of row upon row of corn and wheat, of flatlands and valleys, of mountains and rolling hillsides, of city skylines and village halls.

But uppermost in our minds is the final destination. On a certain day at a certain hour we will pull into the station. Bands will be playing and flags waving. Once we get there so many wonderful dreams will come true and the pieces of our lives will fit together like a completed jigsaw puzzle. How restlessly we pace the aisles, damning the minutes for loitering - waiting, waiting, waiting for the station.

"When we reach the station, that will be it!" we cry. "When I'm 18." "When I buy a new 450 SL Mercedes Benz!" "When I put the last kid through college." "When I have paid off the mortgage!" "When I get a promotion." "When I reach the age of retirement, I shall live happily ever after!"

Sooner or later we must realize there is no station, no one place to arrive at once and for all. The true joy of life is the trip. The station is only a dream. It constantly out-distances us.

"Relish the moment" is a good motto, especially when coupled with Psalm 118:24: "This is the day which the Lord hath made; we will rejoice and be glad in it." It isn't

by Tara Paquette

This year Montreat-Anderson College is starting a new organization called the Student Ambassadors Association (SAA.) It is a nationally recognized club and many colleges across the country have their own chapter of this association, including Duke, Wake Forest, Florida State, Clemson, and Columbia College.

The nationally recognized definition of the SAA is "an active, student organization having a major leadership role on campus, gaining valuable experience in public relations, projecting a positive image of the college, meeting community

VIP's, government officials, and alumni leaders, and influencing the future of the institution."

The purpose of the SAA is twofold. First, it helps the students gain educational experience as well as strengthening their public relations skills. Secondly, it assists the college by projecting a positive influence on the surrounding community.

This chapter of the SAA will be called the Montreat-Anderson Ambassadors. There will be ten students involved; five females and five males. These students are: Jody Ballard, Leslie Blow,

LADY CAV'S SNEAK PREVIEW

by Anita Bumgarner

As the chill of fall weather is approaching, there is one place on campus where things are definitely heating up - the gym! Yes basketball fans, it's that time again, and our Lady Cavaliers are filled with high hopes and lots of determination to succeed.

Last year's Lady Cav's basketball team finished the season ranked 18th in the N.C.C.A.A. and set a school record for wins with their record of 9-13. Four players return from last year's team, including juniors: Trish Lewandowski and Alison Swanger and sophomores: Shon Snipes, and Anita

Bumgarner. Six new players join the Lady Cavs this season. They are juniors: Rebecca Bush, Daphanie Bousum, and freshmen: Carri Lucksavage, Leigh Anne Robinson, Traci Haynes, and Tonya Council. These new players come from strong pro-
