

From The Desk of the Editor...

Since this is my first issue as editor of the Aletheia, I am desperately hoping that you, our loyal M-AC readers, will enjoy it. Until I signed up for journalism class during the fall semester, I never realized how much work goes into the publication of a newspaper. However, I am very glad to have this opportunity to be your editor.

My main objective is to print stories and articles that you, the student body, want to read. Hopefully there will be articles that appeal to every segment of our college.

Please remember that anyone can submit an article. You don't have to be on the staff. We are very open to your suggestions and ideas on what you would like to read and of how to improve our newspaper. We want your input! I don't want you to be happy the Aletheia is published just because it puts something in your mailbox!!!

General Consensus?

Lovanda Fast

I want to talk about love. Despite my lack of experience because I never took Dating 101, I know a little bit about the subject. A lot of what I know comes from speculation, inquisition, and from everything I have read.

Knowing a little bit about love is nothing compared to understanding how relationships work, or don't work. They've never worked for me. I admit, I'm not much of a 'handyman' but you would think I could work on something that doesn't require the use of tools or electricity or anything else that can break physically.

The only thing that can break when it comes to love is the heart. The problem with that is you can't go into a person's heart with a phillips screwdriver and Elmer's glue and expect to fix everything. It doesn't work that way, which you all should know by now. Come on folks, your mommas didn't raise a bunch of fools, did they? Or is that just the general consensus?

One thing I have learned about love is that it's not all feelings. Love is a commitment and you're not gonna feel like you're floating on cloud nine every moment for the rest of your lives. Sometimes your cloud is gonna rain and sometimes it's gonna let the sun shine through. You gotta stick it out if you're committed and if it's really love.

So much for the general consensus. This is just my opinion. You might have another. That's okay. Variety is the spice that makes the world go around. Without it, everyone would be the same and the same events would keep repeating throughout history. If that happened, time travel would exist and take over the airline business.

Hey, I'm out of here. I'm planning to jump on the next cloud heading south. Maybe I'll get lucky and catch the Number Nine Express.

Lady Cavs Complete Record Season

The Lady Cavaliers basketball team recently completed an outstanding season! Ending with a mark of 11 wins and 15 losses, the Lady Cavs set a school record for victories. The program's number of wins has increased each year over the past three years due to the hard work of head coach Dana Bostic and assistant coach Carol Fox. Individual records have also been set each year as well as the record for wins. This tradition certainly looks to be continued for many years to come.

Highlights of the season include: the Bahamas Invitational tournament over Christmas break; a defeat of Meredith College in double overtime; a first ever victory over archrival Brevard College; and a very impressive showing against King College, a perennial power in women's basketball. Anyone who attended the games of the Lady Cavaliers were really treated to a night of excitement and hard-nosed basketball!!!! Just think back to all those 1-point thrillers!! (WHEW!!)

Not only did the Lady Cavs have a great on the court season, but they also excelled in the classroom. The team held a combined 3.1 grade point average, which shows that academics are truly stressed in the program.

A limited number of players forced many of the younger players to have to play beyond their years of experience. But, this
