

Student Leaders Elected

by Aron Gabriel

On Tuesday, September 6, 1994, the first class meetings were held.

The purpose of the class meetings was to elect officers for the 1994-1995 school year. The results of the respective class meetings were as follows:

In the freshman class president's race, Antwan Phelps edged Chris Baltzgar in a run-off election.

Phelps stated, "It's not really a surprise to me. I feel that I possess leadership qualities."

Also, in a run-off election, Kelly Lang defeated Zack Durham for the vice president position.

Ben Foster won the member-at-large race, and Alan Hines was selected to the honor court position.

However, since Rogers already has an SGA position, Gritton will serve as vice president.

In the member-at-large race, J.R. Cunningham ousted Tyrone Jones.

Auditions Launch Fall Season

by Kathryn Letterman and Christian Malone

Montreat-Anderson's Greybeard Players began preparations Wednesday for their upcoming season. Whence, directed by sophomore Miriam Chapen, will be performed in early November. Bill W. and Dr. Bob, directed by M. Janie King will be performed the first week of December.

Auditions took place on Wednesday night with over twenty students nervously gathered in the game room of Davis Hall.

The casting results will be posted sometime today.

Whence takes place in a post-apocalyptic society where the world was destroyed by nuclear warfare and everyone lives underground.

This will be Chapen's debut as a director.

Bill W. and Dr. Bob is a play about the two men who started Alcoholics Anonymous back in the 1930's.

This full length production will be the second directing thesis in M-AC's history. The first was Screwtape directed last fall by Jennifer Hardman.

King was also the technical director of last spring's play,

Lady Cavaliers V-ball Team Falls to Milligan

by Jonathan Bennett

On Monday night at McAlister Gym, the Cavalier volleyball team fell to Milligan College.

It was the first regular season home match for the Lady Cavaliers and proved to be a difficult defeat.

Milligan took the first game 15-4, but the Cavs scrambled back in the second game and pulled off a 15-13 win.

However, Milligan took the next two 15-8 and 15-9 to close out the match.

Stephanie Cone led the Lady Cavaliers in kills with 15 followed by Middle Hitter, Gail Collingsworth, who piled up nine put-aways, including a nasty, cross court spike in the third game which blistered the Milligan defense.

Christi Waddell and Jenny Douthit led the team in digs with

But, since neither candidate has been at M-AC for two semesters, the position will be filled at a later date.

In response to the decision, Cunningham stated, "I think the two semester rule should be changed. I love M-AC, and I have no intentions of leaving.....ever. Viva M-AC."

Finally, Aaron Gilchrist was selected to be the honor court representative.

In the junior class elections, Aron Gabriel ran unopposed The Lion in Winter.

Brian Fuller, professor of English Communications commented, "I'm very excited she (King) is directing. She has done some fine work in the past, and I think she will do an excellent job with this."

King commented that she believes drama is on the rise here at Montreat-Anderson. She continued that the troupe needs more support from faculty and students.

She remarked, "I think it is important for M-AC to devote more time and effort to the arts departments."

Alpha Psi Omega, the national collegiate drama fraternity, member Naj Alicea, who auditioned for the plays on Wednesday commented, "I liked the new location of the auditions. The atmosphere was lighter. The turnout was also impressive."

Next semester, the spring mainstage performance will be directed by Fuller. Times and locations for auditions will be posted early next semester.

eight each.

In analyzing the key to the game, Coach Darin Chaplain stated, "We didn't pass the ball well and we made too many mistakes. Our effort was good, but Milligan took advantage of our mistakes."

"Milligan College passed the ball exceptionally well which enabled their setter to pick and choose her spots on the court and therefore resulted in easy kill opportunities for Milligan."

New Program Focuses on Leadership Developmental Skills

Exciting, challenging, new off-campus, semester-long program being offered. This program, operating out of Chicago, will focus on leadership development skills while exploring the dynamics of urban issues. Exposure to a variety of working urban models using the city as a classroom. Full semester academic credit with internship, offered January '95. and was voted vice president.

In response to Gabriel's victory, junior Kevin Laws stated, "I think I would have done a much better job."

Jason Baker defeated Jamie Jesse for the member-at-large position.

Running unopposed was Shane Wilson, who won the

Cavalier Baseball Team Gears Up

...Preparations for spring season in progress

by Chris Howard

Using fall practices, the baseball team is shaping up to swing away and batter up a strong spring.

The 1994 squad finished last semester with an overall record of seven games below 500. They won nineteen games but lost twenty-six.

The Cavaliers qualified for their first ever district tournament, but the team dropped its first two matches 4-1 and 6-4.

However, they did pull off big regular season wins over two good teams.

Their team held on for close wins over NCAA II Gardner Webb, 8-6, and NCAA I UNCA, 7-6.

The M-AC sluggers are looking to build off last year to have a strong season. Also, two returning players were All-Conference from last semester and expectations are fueled by a third place conference finish (12-9).

With plenty of strengths, the biggest weakness on the field will be the loss of Lance McCall, who is finishing his degree this semester.

McCall was named All-Conference two consecutive seasons. His 38 runs batted in was second in the conference in 1994.

"We've got a big hole to fill at second base", remarked Head Coach Darin Chaplain.

Experience will be the prime strength in 1995. In Chaplain's third season, eighteen of this year's 38 players are returning from last year's Defense Specialist Sabrina Rogers commented, "We played a lot better than we did last week but we're still not playing like we can."

"I think we can go a long way this season if we learn to play consistently."

Chaplain also added, "This team is head and shoulders above any team we've ever had. But every team in the conference has gotten better as well. There are no easy matches on our schedule."

honor court position.

Lastly, the senior class election results. M-A Hall Resident Janie King was named vice president. In the member-at-large race, Heather Meister came away victorious.

Finally, Chris Schmidt walked away with the honor court position.

squad.

"We believe the seniors are our leaders," commented Chaplain.

No official captain has been selected, so the leadership for the team will be expected from senior Shawn Wills.

The offense will be led by All-Conference and All-District team member Joe Snyder.

From the mound, the pitching staff will be led by Shane Hatcher for yet another year. The All-Conference player finished 9-5 after leading the conference in record pitches.

"They've done a real good job," stated Chaplain commenting about what he's seen of the freshmen and transfers thus far.
