

Legendary Advice from Craig and Joe

Dear Legends,

I know I can ask you questions about relationships because you're guys and you know what guys like. I myself didn't go to public school; I was home schooled and didn't get much interaction with many members of the opposite sex who weren't related to me. After attending King of Hearts and seeing all of those good-looking men, I am consumed with a quest for love. I must have one of them! Please tell me which one to pursue. By the way, are either of you guys available? You guys are so hot.

Yours truly,

Home schooler with problems - Suzy

Dear Home schooler with problems,

You've made a great decision by picking the men from King of Hearts. This consummation of love and desire is a natural response to the man-candy you observed on Thursday the 12th. The only way to truly choose the option that is best for you is by looking at each candidate in detail.

1- Colton Gera. A fine selection! While young, he has a beautiful ability to write exuberant poetry which, if you date him, he will surely use to immortalize you and your love.

2 - Joshua Platt. The country gentlemen! You can expect to be branded with his love. If your car gets stuck in the mud, you can expect a quick and speedy rescue. If you are in a love rut ... he can pull you out of the lugubrious mud of despair and into the arms of the country gentlemen.

3 - Nathan Dimmock. Great legs! Dimmock was born in the wrong era. His musical tastes will make you swoon, consisting of Bing Crosby, Frank Sinatra, and Nat King Cole. A night with Nate would more than likely consist of starry nights and endless dancing with the smell of Kenyan Chai brewing in the background. Plus Nathan is freakin' hot.

4 - Dane "Secret Agent" Haskell, the King of Hearts himself. He can get you out of any room with tools he hides in his Neard. Rocking hardcore abs and a I'm hotter-than-you attitude, Dane could perhaps be the finest selection on the list.

Chaplain Steve once said "selecting a mate for life should be arbitrary and quickly decided." We mention this to say — don't take too long. You should make a decision and commit, and as always, don't stop until you've secured your man.

Happy holidays,

Craig and Joe

Upcoming Events

Thursday, February 19

Float N Flick - Jaws
at Cheshire Pool

Vans leave at 8 PM

Movie starts at 8:30 PM

Saturday, February 21, 5 PM

Night Skiing at Wolf Ridge

Tuesday, February 24

Faculty Recital -
Chapel of the Prodigal

Thursday, February 26

Coffeehouse

Johnny Cash Impersonation Night

First prize:

Walk the Line DVD

Monday, March 2, 7PM

Poetry Reading, in honor of Dr. Seuss's Birthday

Details forthcoming

Ping Pong Tournament 9PM

Tuesday, March 3, 11AM

Convo with Paul Young
(Author of The Shack)

Tuesday, March 3, 7-10PM

Volleyball Tournament
McAlister Gym

Friday, March 6

Campus-Wide Hoe Down

Details Forthcoming

Tuesday, March 10

Music Department Recital
Chapel of the Prodigal