

OFFICERS' NEWS

(By LIEUT. WILLIAM L. MUNSON.)

DOING WELL.

Major Myron Morris is recovering nicely from an appendectomy operation, which was performed last Friday. He is being cared for in the officers' ward. He is one of the officers who has been transferred to Base Hospital No. 54.

CAPT. CARNEY BETTER.

Captain Harold Carney, who is completing a siege of pneumonia and complications is much improved. He is now able to sit up for short periods each day.

The following is taken from a letter to Lieut. Munson from Capt. F. W. McCorley, of Base Hospital 33, now stationed in England:

"When we left the ship and marched through town to our first camp we had a regular demonstration. There were no bands or fireworks—because it was all unofficial—but it seems that word was passed that the Americans were coming and the whole town turned out. The women and kids cheered and sang and cried—some ran along and caught the men's hands, and some gave them cigarettes and cakes. It was really very touching and there is no doubt that they are glad to see us."

Speaking of intensive farming, the letter continues: "Every foot is cultivated—not ten foot strips of weeds and brush each side of the fences, as we see at home. The whole country looks like a carefully managed truck farm, the houses—even those back in the country, are all neat and clean looking—and each house has at least a small bit of lawn and a flower garden."

There is a report that when the next month's pay checks come in each officer is going to deduct twenty-five dollars and buy war saving stamps. This is fine and it is hoped that the program will be carried out. If the stamps are no good the money is no good.

Capt. Eberhart operated upon Capt. Ives a few days ago for an impacted molar.

Report is about to the effect that Lieuts. Thomas and Monohan have been assigned to Base 54. At any rate Lieut. Thomas made Captain Harvey give up the boots that he had sold him last week.

Captain G. W. Johnson, who has had charge of the isolation wards, has been assigned to service in the receiving ward. Capt. Webster has taken charge of the work in isolation.

Lieut. Allen, who was formerly on the medical service, has been made Assistant Adjutant and is now in the office with Capt. Sheaff.
