

+
+
 ARMY
 NURSE CORPUS
 NEW S

BY MISS MARY LaSELL

NEW CHIEF NURSE

The nurses at the Base Hospital are now under the supervision of a new chief nurse, Miss Susan G. Parish, of the regular army nurse corps, the former head of that important department, Miss Alice D. Agnew being relieved to take charge of the nurses attached to Base Hospital No. 54.

Miss Parish arrived at this station Monday afternoon after a long and tedious journey from Camp Donovan, Fort Sill, Okla., where she had charge of the nurses at the Base Hospital there.

NURSES ARRIVE.

Three nurses arrived for duty with the U. S. base hospital, Camp Greene, this past week. They are: Miss Josephine Foster, who reached here Monday from New Orleans, La.; Miss Agnes Lee, N. A. S. H. U. S., from New Hampshire, who arrived Tuesday afternoon and Miss Joanna Coakley, who has been studying in New York city for the past four years, on Wednesday evening.

REPORT FOR DUTY.

Miss Agnes Lee and Miss Josephine Pfister, Reserve Nurses, Army Nurse Corps, reported for duty at this Hospital during the past week.

CALLED OUT.

Misses Bernard, Van Zent, McDowell, Joy and Smith of one of the California hospital units, have been called from the U. S. army base hospital, Camp Greene, where they had been stationed for several weeks.

JOINS UNIT.

Miss Martha McCullem, who has been at the base hospital for some time, but who is attached to a New Orleans unit, has been ordered to report for duty with that organization.

WRITE NURSES' NEWS.

During the absence of Miss Mary LaSell, who is on leave for a few days, the nurses' news for The Caduceus is being written by Bessie Warwick and Martha Pigg.

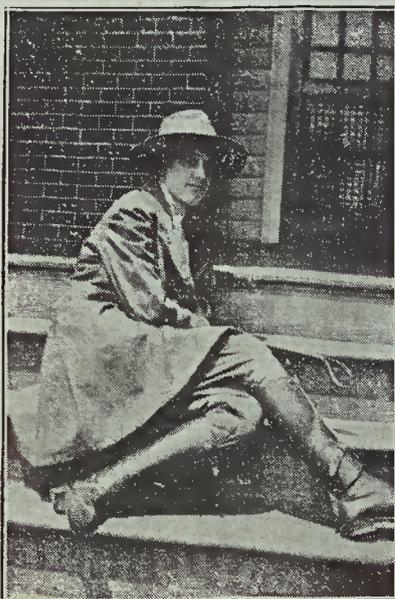

TRANSFERRED.

The following nurses have been transferred from this Hospital to the Nurses' Mobilization Station, New York City, to await Overseas transportation:

Miss Margaret M. McCullin, Miss Bessie M. Chapman, Miss Martha S. Pigg, Miss Wilhelmina C. Young, and Miss Ethylnde E. Smith.

IS DISCHARGED.

Miss June Pellig of Lexington, Ky., a former member of the U. S. army base hospital, Camp Greene, has been granted a discharge for physical disability and has returned to her home in Kentucky.

RIDING HABITNURSE MARTHA PIGG.

From the picture above there is no denying that Miss Martha Pigg, nurse in Ward C-5 is one of several "mercy sisters" who have the riding habit. Miss Pigg is an enthusiastic member of that cavalry of nurses and officers which leaves the nurses' home every evening about sundown for a canter over the Dixie hills.

NURSE MARRIES

Miss Anna Porter, for several weeks a nurse at the U. S. army base hospital, Camp Greene, was married to Lieut. J. A. Steves at Washington on Friday of last week. She has resigned her work with the R. N. A. N. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Steves will make their home in Washington temporarily, as the lieutenant, who is commissioned in the medical department, is stationed there. Mr. Steves had formerly practiced medicine at Mauch Chunk, Pa., where he met Miss Porter.

ERROR CORRECTED.

Miss Sonner begs to correct the error in the last issue of The Caduceus, which stated that she nearly drowned in two feet of water. Miss Sonner alleges that the water was at least twenty feet deep.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

Misses Pederson, MacEnany and Pipe wish to announce that they are "at home evenings."

WHERE YOU GET THAT?

One of the latest "good night, Nurse" stories runs as follows:

The nurse was paying her last bit of attention for the day to the sick fallen soldier, and having a few minutes to spare before being relieved from duty, she inquired tenderly:

"Is there any thing else you wish?"

"I'd like awfully to be kissed 'good night,' warmly replied the wan patient whose fever was rising at a rapid rate.

"All right," sweetly consented the fair attendant, "I'll go get the orderly, as he looks after all the rough stuff."

COULDN'T STAND IT.

Time—During severe Winter weather.

Place—Hospital Ward.

Characters—Patient, who needed a bath very badly.

Nurse: "Wouldn't you like a bath?"

Patient: "I'll tell you, . . . nurse; I am feeling pretty good now, and I would hate to be sick again."