

OFFICERS' PAGE

(BY LIEUT. WILLIAM L. MUNSON.)

ORDERED TO RICHMOND.

Capt. Graham, who has had charge of the Dakin-Carrel ward on the surgical service of this hospital for the past six months, has been ordered to Richmond for duty on the surgical staff of a reconstruction hospital at that place.

ROUGH SAILING.

Capt. M. M. Miller is having a hard time with his 54 Tiger baseball team. When his team feels like playing the powers that be won't let them, and when the powers will let them they can't play because there are no arc lights on the ball diamond. It's hard to know what to do, but we all know what W. J. B. would do under the same condition, and then go on the Chatauqua.

Last Tuesday night Capt. Nelan was awakened by the sound of crying, which apparently was in the officers' quarters. Tracing the sobs the Captain found Capt. Darling reading the "Dere Mable" love letters to Capt. Ellen. Just in passing Capt. Nelan does not have to find his funny reading in books, the service records of the last bunch of men that he got for 54 have been keeping him and Sgt. Wenger laughing.

Capt. Meade says that all 54 is waiting for is the pay checks, but he forgot to state which month.

Capt. Hugh J. White who recently arrived for duty in this hospital is assigned to the surgical service. This makes two Whites on the surgical service.

SAME STORY.

Major Hubbard told this one last Monday morning after operations. Upon leaving home at the end of his recent ten-days' vacation the major called his 15-year-old son to his side and told him that "the best way that you can serve your country at this time is by getting your lessons." "Well," said the boy, "I thought that was coming, that's what you always say, when you go away."

TO PORTO RICO.

Capt. L. A. Strong was called back from his vacation to comply with orders that take him to San Juan, Porto Rico. The captain will have charge of the surgical service of the Base Hospital at that place.

Lieut. Hadley has been assigned to duty at the construction hospital at Richmond. He departed last Wednesday.
