

THE CADUCEUS.

MANY TAKE PEEP.

The celebrated "red bats," captured by Janitor George in the bottom below the building some days ago, and now on exhibition in the "Y" office, continue to excite much curious interest. Not only have they been viewed by most of the enlisted men, but quite a number of the superior officers have likewise manifested considerable interest. They may be classified as of the Carminus Bricimus species. Up to the present they have refused to eat and it is a question as to how long they may be retained in captivity. Any one wishing to see them will apply at "Y" 282 office. Fully 1,000 persons have viewed them.

IT NEEDS TUNING.

Sergeant walks up to new recruit, as he comes into mess hall the first morning.

"Good morning."

"Good morning," says recruit.

"I hope you have had a good night's rest," says the sergeant.

"No," says the mild mannered recruit, "The bugle kept me awake."

"Oh!" says the sergeant, "I suppose you are going to ask us to quit the bugle calls."

"No, not exactly," says recruit, "but would you very much mind having it tuned?"

Private Leroy Sellers, dental assistant, is on a ten day furlough to his home at Laporte, Indiana.
