THE GREAT DAYS HAVE COME

I have always been proud to be an American, and was never more proud than now, when all that we have said and all that we have fore seen about our people is coming true. The great days have come when the only thing that they ask for or admire is duty greatly and adequately done; when their only wish for America is that she may share the freedom she enjoys; when a great compelling sympathy wells up in their hearts for men everywhere who suffer and are oppressed; and when they see at last the high uses for which their wealth has been piled up and their mighty power accumulated and, counting neither blood nor treasure now that their final day of opportunity has come, rejoice to spend and to be spent through a long night of suffering and terror in order that they and men everywhere may see the dawn of a day of righteousness and justice and peace. Shall we grow weary when they bid us act?—President Wilson.

The religious service in the evening was in charge of Camp Secretary, J. T. Mangum. He preached a strong sermon that made a lasting impression upon his auditors.

GRAND JUBILEE.

There will be a Jubilee Singing on the campus of Biddle University, Sunday at 6 p. m. A program is being rehearsed which includes old hymns, folk songs and Southern melodies. Invitation is given to white friends to attend the Jubilee.

Secretaries McDermont and Flarity have returned to Camp Greene and the boys are very glad to see them again.

HOSTESS HOUSE AT CAMP

LEISURE HOURS MADE HAPPY HERE.

A visit to the hostess house at the Tuckasegee road near Camp Headquarters recently proved very productive both from a pleasurable standpoint and from the interesting information that its hospitable director had to give.

As signs which are posted in the greater part of the mess shacks throughout the camp announce the Y. W. C. A. Hostess house is open daily and is an agreeable place where soldiers may meet their friends and dine with them within the confines of the camp. All necessary information about the big cantonment may be secured here and soldier friends may be located with little difficulty by Miss Ashe the business and information secretary.

Miss Pirnie, the director, is one of the three original hostesses having been in charge of the hostess house at Madison Barracks, Sackettes Harbor, N. Y., during its initial months weeks of service at that training camp. Later Miss Pirnie had charge of the Y. W. C. A. house at Camp Upton, N. Y., coming to this station but a few weeks ago.
