

HAVE OUR NUMBER

HOSPITAL ADJUTANT AND STAFF.

When we sign the pay roll, when we are up for court martial and lots of other things we stand in the presence of this gathering. Adjutant McKnight and his helpers are keeping the lists and records of all officers and a part of the data on enlisted men and they are so busy that they could scarcely spare the time to arrange themselves upon the front seats of the administration building for a Caduceus picture one sunny day this week.

The men standing in the rear row the private Norton and Corporal Mar. From left to right along the lower row, are Corporal Mahn, Sergeant First Class Wright, Lieutenant McKnight, Sergeant Mills and Sergeant McDonald.

HERE FOR TRAINING.

To replace the detachments from Base 92 and Evacuation Hospital 30, which left here Sunday to rejoin their respective organizations after having completed their course of three weeks' practical hospital work here, 35 men from Base Hospital No. 122 and 29 men from Evacuation Hospital No. 30 have arrived.

These men will undergo a similar course of instruction at the hospital in general management and ward work to prepare them for service across the water.

ATTENDS SCHOOL.

Corporal James Johnson of the detachment office force, is one of the fortunate few to attend the class in government allotments and insurance given by Lieutenant Hasty at camp personnel headquarters.

THE NEWS IN RHYME.

The Wotan Line
Is Super-fine
It turns in shoots and angles
While Yankee Gans
Are teaching Huns
To fear our Stars and Spangles.

The Czecho-Slavs
Though split in Halves
Have Unity of Spirit
The Allied Pep
Is in their step
Let's hope the Germans hear it.

The Kaiser's Ears
Are filled with tears
They say he's got the ague
His head is split,
His hat won't fit
From too much Haig & Hague.

Observe with glee
How Italy
Has stopped the Teuton menace
The Kaiser's name
In Halls of Fame
Will soon be rhymed with Dennis.

The Bolsheviks
Are up to tricks
They plot and counter-plotzky
While in Berlin
The Kaiser's kin
Now dance the Lenine-Trotzky.

In Palestine
The sands are fine
They run in rhythmic stretches
While British Gents
Now live in tents
Once owned by Turkish wretches.
