FINE RECEPTION

SALISBURY EXTENDS SOLDIERS
GLAD HAND.

Warm are the praises of the hospital men in speaking of their treatment at Salisbury on last Saturday night when the base hospital minstrels performed in the opera house before a large audience. Many of the men stayed over to enjoy the week-end hospitality of Salisbury citizens.

An effort is being made to secure the return of the minstrels to Salisbury at the New Year season.

REMEMBER 'EM?

HIGH SOUNDING PHRASES THAT ARE OUT OF LUCK.

The hospital publication of Azalea, N. C. calls attention to these sentences, which once made the earth shudder, as they thundered from the lips of somebody we would like to greet on a lonely highway—

"I'll stand no nonsense from America."

"I shall impose my will upon the world."

"The giant deeds of my invincible troops."

"Before we yield we will spend every drop of blood."

"My troops are the chosen people."

"The spirit of the Lord has descended on Me."

"I am the instrument of the Almighty."

"Disaster to all those who oppose me."

"Death to all those who resist my will."

"God commands you, through my mouth, to do His will."

"Me und Gott."
