SHE UNDERSTANDS

1st Nurse: Do I understand that Capt — tripped the light fantastic with you at the Manufacturers Club last evening?

2nd Nurse: He tripped the fantastic, but it was far from being LIGHT.

HELPS THE CITY

ARMY FURNISHES NINE NURSES TO HOSPITAL.

In ready response to a plea for more nurses to care for the influx of influenza patients at the Presbyterian hospital, in Charlotte, during the early part of the week, nine nurses from the U. S. Army Base Hospital, Camp Greene were sent out for two days of service in the city hospital.

The nurses sent to the city by Miss Susan G. Parish, chief nurse, were Misses Rooke, Hopkins, Elmore, Pye, Kellett, Veaze, Murrey, Keeney and Gross. These graduate nurses aided the city hospital force in a way that rendered their services invaluable. The army hospital has been delivered the warmest thanks for the timely assistance.

PLAY VOLLEY BALL.

Volley ball has claimed a share of the attention of the nurses at the base hospital and one thrilling contest has been held, under the direction of Physical Director Bergman. Miss Hansbrough captained the winning team, which had taken the name of The Hornets. The score was 21 to 19 after forty minutes of play. Stars of the game were Misses Cressman, Haskins and Nicholas.

The line ups follow: Hornets—Miss Hansbrough, captain; Misses Carrington, Cressman, Ferris, Getty, Moore, Nicholas, English, Guion, Gladys Pierce, Miller, Smith, Whitaker, Wiedman, VanCampen. Blue Birds—Miss Strong, captain; Misses Armstrong, Atwood, Callagher, Everett, Ely, Ruth Pierce, Jackson, Haskins, Martin, Offut Summers, Villemonde, Truempler.

THE SPIRIT OF THE DAY

RED CROSS BUILDING ON THANKSGIVING.

Heaps of fruit upon the big tables and cheery streamers running across the well lighted room gives the picture of the inviting spirit of the Red Cross building at the Base Hospital on Thanksgiving day. The picture was taken from the stage area of the open room and shows at the far side of the room the booth for installing a motion picture machine.

Convalescent patients are to be seen, seated in the foreground and before one of the open fire places. Apples, oranges and bananas fill the fruit baskets on the tables.
