Unusual Information

Unique replies were received in recent mid-year examinations at Betty Zane Junior High School of Martins Ferry, Ohio, according to The Zane-graph, a school paper. They follow:
The Star Spangled Banner was written by Wm. Scott Key. He was captured and was on a ship at about Don when he said O, Say Can You See, etc., on the back of a letterhead.

The North agreed that the South should have Missouri as a slave.

The President has a cabinet in order too keep his china in it.

Ohio was omitted into the Union in 1925.

The Story of the Erie Canal. Some men started to build the canal and the mosquitoes broke out and about all the men died.

Francis Scott Key went down in his bunk and walked the floor all night.

A senator has to be 14 years old.

If you have any vacancies go at once to a dentist.

Gladys (during storm): "Oh my, the lights have gone out and I can't see how to talk."

Polly: "Well, I'm glad of that, because I'd like to read if you would keep still awhile."

Delicate Situation

Mary Ann gave notice she was going to be married. Her mistress perturbed, said: "Of course, I don't want to put any obstacle in the way of your getting married, but I wish it were possible for you to postpone it until I can get another maid."

"Well, mum," Mary Ann replied "I 'ardly think I know 'im well enough to arsk 'im to put it o'f!"

All Set For It

Fair Motorist—"Really, I didn't hit you intentionally."

Pedestrian—"Well, what have you got that bumper on your car for if you aren't aiming to hit someone?"

—Williams Purple Cow.

The Peculiar One

Customer—"You've made two mistakes in this bill, one in your favor and one in mine."

Grocer—"In your favor? Where?"

—Exchange.
