

THE POINTER

Published Every Monday by HIGH POINT HIGH SCHOOL

Claire Douglas Editor
Sammie Herman Associate Editor
William Lewis Sports Editor
Ward Packer Sports Editor
Ruth Clinard Business Manager
Lawrence White Advertising Manager
Parker Waynick Asst. Advertising Mgr.
Samuel Hyman Asst. Advertising Manager
Clarence Crowson Asst. Advertising Manager
Ted Thompson Shop Manager
Gadys Hofmann School News Editor
Paul Ruth School News Editor
Pauline Hicks School News Editor
Joe Smoak State Athletic News
Olin Matthews State Athletic News
Eleanor Cook Joke Editor
Gladys Ellington Humorous Editor
Gwyn Jarvis Exchange Editor
Garland McPherson Circulation Manager
Robert Bain Asst. Circulation Mgr.
Ruth Russell Mailing Circulation Manager
Mr. H. G. Owens Faculty Director
Mr. M. L. Patrick Faculty Adviser

SUBSCRIPTION PRICE

Members of City School $.35
Others 1.00

MONDAY, JUNE 1, 1925

HIGH SCHOOL ACTIVITIES

High Point high school as a whole has taken great strides forward during the past school year. As a result, all the authorities are well pleased with what has been done and wish to compliment the student body on its accomplishments.

Several new departures have been instituted in the high school during the past year.

The system of self-rating cards has really proved beneficial. The students themselves have found the cards to be a great help in determining just where they stand in their own opinions.

The honor study groups have proved successful and may be used as a stepping stone toward reaching student government. A radical change in the way of student government would completely demoralize the school. Thus it is that the more gradual method of instituting it is safer.

These two things have proved so successful that they will probably be continued another year.

The high school has again entered the debating field and considering that all four of the triangular debaters had had practically no experience, the result was quite good. One team lost, but the other team won. Too, the high school and "The Pointer" fostered debating between the classes.

Glee Club work was carried on on a more intensive scale than ever before, and the Glee Clubs won second place in the State Musical Clubs contest.

For this, for all these, the Pointer thanks the student body, and wishes the high school a prosperous year during 1925-26.

SENIORS ARE ACTIVE

(Continued from page 1)

girls.

The local records show that thirty-three and one-third per cent of the senior honor roll was made by boys and the remaining sixty-six and two-thirds per cent by girls.

Out of about 120 seniors, 65 made the honor roll for at least one month. Thirteen seniors, five boys and eight girls made the honor roll every month. Four seniors made the honor roll for seven months, eight made the honor roll for 6 months, five made the honor roll for five months, six made honor roll for four months, five made the honor roll for three months, nine made the honor roll for two months and fifty made the honor roll for one month.

About 55 seniors did not get on the honor roll at any time during this school term.

At the end of the first school term 43 seniors made the honor roll for the first five months. These were divided into three groups. There were four seniors in the A group, fourteen seniors in the B group and twenty-five seniors in the C group.

Those seniors in the A Group are Claire Douglas, Semmie Herman, Tony Antonakos and Margaret Hauser. In the B group are: Joe A. Smoak, Parker Waynick, Jack Farlow, Graydon Ring, Harold White, Dorothy Hoskins, Ruby Johnson, Lena Wagner, Marjorie Welborn, Glennie Anderson, Ruth Clinard, Aline Kaneer, Verta Lewallen and Nannie Lee Perdue.

Those seniors in the C group are: Cleo Poston, Alice Elizabeth Freeze, Rada Poston, John Chilton, Henry Veach, John Wood, Sallie Bell, Mary Clinard, Margaret Gurley, Grace Hinshaw, Samuel Hyman, Clarence Crowson, Cleve Loman, Fern Allen, Hazel Brown, Alberta Corbit, Norine Horney, Marion Jones, Inez Reynolds, Irene Reynolds, Elizabeth Welch, Theodore Antonakos, Louise McEwen, Frances Pennington and Lois Smith.

This is one of the best records the high school has ever had. It means that over fifty per cent of the graduating class have not been satisfied merely to get by, but have worked sufficiently enough to gain the honor roll. Mr. Johnston at the beginning of the school year told the student body that grades would be more strict than previous years and it has been gratifying to him to see the splendid efforts shown by the student body.

The fifteen seniors who made the honor roll every month are Jack Farlow, Graydon Ring, Joe A. Smoak, Parker Waynick, Claire Douglas, Semmie Herman, Tony Antonakos, Glennie Anderson, Margaret Hauser, Aline Kaneer, Nannie Lee Perdue, Catherine Whitener and Ruth Clinard.

The four seniors who made the honor roll for seven months are: Alice Elizabeth Freeze, Verta Lewallen, Ruby Johnson and Dorothy Hoskins. The eight seniors who made honor roll for six months are: Leona Wagner, Neta Gordon, Rada Poston, Ila Cross, Louise McEwen.

(Continued on page 9)

PRESS ROOM PARAGRAPHS

By TED THOMPSON

A few tips about theinmates of room number 30:

* * *
Noisy Parker Waynick,
Is a very talkative boy.
To monopolize a class
Is Parker's greatest joy.
* * *

There is lanky Fred Perdue
Who is seen but never heard.
For Fred to disturb a class
Would, be, indeed, quite absurd.
* * *

And there's "Glen Oswald" Ketchie,
The classroom shiek.
Who comes to school each mornnig
With his hair so nice and sleek.
* * *

There is care free Fletcher Lambert,
Whose hair is somewhat red.
It is said that once when Fletcher retired
People thought there was a fire in the bed.
* * *

There is smilin' Charlie Mac,
Whose slogan, it is said,
Is to eat and eat and eat
For tomorrow you may not be fed.
* * *

And shy Wilbert Hines,
A very bashful child.
Wilbert has a fine disposition—
His temper is very mild.
* * *

Inquiry: The pressman wants to know how long a lawyer has to practice law before he knows it.
* * *

"Do you know your chaacter is judged by your handwriting?"
"That being the case I haven't a character then."

"How come, boy, how come?"
"Cause I do my writin on a typewriter."
* * *

The boy stood on the burning deck.
His face was very red.
The flames had made it too hot for sleep

And he wanted to go to bed.
* * *

Here's what happens to boys who calls girls Flappers:

Dear _____,
You old jelly bean, tea hound,
cookie pusher, lounge lizard, crumb shoer and would-be sheik. You are the most insulting person I have ever met. You can be awfully sweet when you try. Now why do you call me a flapper? I am not and never will be. Why not pick out a pretty gal to call those horrid names? As I am homely you ought to hush. You have not a reason in the world.
Every body says I am bashful. I've even got Wilbert Hines beat.

I think you are simply shooting
craps with Fate when you rile me
I am hard. I drank my milk out of a champagne bottle and cut my teeth on poker chips. You are the most conceited and the most imprudent jelly-bean in H. P. H. S.

You are quite a lady-killer and your path-way lies strown with broken hearts. You dirty heart burster.