

PARODY ON TEACHERS PRESENTED TO JUNIORS AT CLASS MEETING

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 27

Personalities of the Instructors
Are Held Up to Light. Excellent Imitations Given.

PROGRAM IS PRINTED

A "take-off" on the faculty, titled "The Valiants," caused much laughter during the junior class meeting last Wednesday. Each character emphasized the mannerisms and pet sayings of the teacher he represented. Dwight Barringer, as the principal, made several announcements and also commented upon the general behavior of the school, usually reversing the thought that Mr. Johnston gives to his remarks.

Julia Gold Clark lectured the audience in a style Miss Anne Albright could scarcely have exceeded. Rose Askew very capably gave a gum chewing demonstration. The recent advice of Miss Penelope Morgan on the proper way to dress was reissued by Dot Smith with a few words so changed as to make its meaning the exact opposite of the previous speech.

Herman Yokely rendered most realistically a mimic of the address made by Dr. Short, who spoke here some time ago. The next was extremely brief but equally effective.

THE BIG SISTER CLUB ENTERTAINS FACULTY AND LITTLE SISTERS

Teas Given in Cafeteria March 26, 27, 29—Program Consisting of Games, Stunts and Readings, Given.

The "Big Sisters" under the direction of Miss Anne Albright, entertained the Little Sisters at a series of teas, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, March 26, 27 and 28.

The cafeteria was decorated with a profusion of spring flowers and ferns.

The program consisted of stunts, games, and readings. The readings were rendered on Tuesday by Harriett Surrill and Marion Cox, pupils of Mrs. W. E. Davis. On Wednesday Miss Mildred Singer entertained with a reading, and Miss Mary Lemmod of Cloverdale school, on Thursday.

Delicious punch and sandwiches were served each afternoon. The refreshments were prepared by the

FRESHMAN GLEE CLUB GIVES CHAPEL PROGRAM

Is Divided Into Three Sections
With Soprano and Alto Voices
With Soprano and Alto Voices;
Numbers Approximately 80.

The freshman glee club under the direction of Louis L. Stookey made its debut before the students Monday, March 25. They entertained the school with a varied selection of songs. The special numbers were: "The Lorely," by Silcher; "Fleecy Clouds," by Beethoven; "Sailor's Slumber Song," by Porter; and "Glorious Forever."

The glee club is divided into three sections: first soprano, second soprano, and alto. There are about eighty voices in all.

This glee club will be the major factor of the senior glee club next year.

BIOLOGY CLASSES TAKE NUMBER OF FIELD TRIPS

Have Studied Out of Doors
Every Month So Far; Learn
Much of Plants, Seeds and Different Trees.

Mr. Sloan's biology classes have been making an extensive study of plants, throughout all the seasons by field trips.

In September they took up the study of general conditions of plants and animals. They noticed how plants change in winter, and when these changes begin.

In November the study of seeds was taken up. Kinds of seeds and what parts of the plants they are found on were observed. The class also studied the size of seeds compared to the size of plants, and the number of the seeds and the size of the plant. They collected as many kinds of seeds as possible, especially those showing adaptations for distribution, and protection.

In March in the study of buds they determined the age of limbs of trees by the bud scars, and number of leaves by leaf scars. Each student chose a particular branch and estimated the number of leaves for this year. Later they will go back to check on their estimate. It was found that leaves are the most important things in the identification of trees because so few of them are recognizable now.

On the last field trip, a flying squirrel and a nest containing two small ones was found.

Sewing Classes Make Costumes for Chorus

Patterns Made Entirely By the Junior and Senior Sewing
Classes; Materials Are Dyed.

The costumes for all the choruses of the annual operetta are being made by the girls of the sewing department of the Home Economics classes. All the classes have participated to some extent in the making of these costumes.

The patterns were made by the junior classes in order to save the expense of buying them, and also, because it was thought that if made here they would more likely be what was wanted than if they had to be bought.

To save money, much of the cloth was bought white, and then dyed by the freshmen classes. The colors to be used in the making of these costumes are pink and green. Approximately 50 yards of material was bought. All the costumes have been designed in keeping with those of Colonial New England.

"THE CAPTAIN" TO BE PRESENTED BY GLEE CLUBS FRIDAY NIGHT

C. L. Gray and Dorothy Franklin to Carry Leading Roles.
Mr. Stookey Is Director. Score
By School Musicians.

The operetta that the high school students will produce Friday, matinee and night, as their fifth annual musical show, is a comic opera entitled "The Captain." The story is that of John Alden and Priscilla, with modern interpretations. The high school operetta has become such an institution in High Point that it seems needless to say that it will be elaborately staged and correctly costumed. Three sets of scenery have been ordered to insure the fact that the setting will be all that could be desired. Colorful costumes will make the spectacle most pleasing to the eye. All the costumes for the main characters have been ordered from Philadelphia.

Every one knows and loves the famous old story of John Alden and Priscilla. This interpretation of "The Captain" will be without a doubt all the more entertaining for the fact that it has the little modern touches to secure the laughter of the audience. The boasting, blustering Captain Miles Standish gets his love affairs into such a tangle that in the end it is undeniable that the great captain is a fighter, but not a lover.

The production contains three acts all of them filled with witty lines, supplemented by the unusually beautiful songs, both solo, and chorus. The music is said to be most tuneful, and the choruses have been well trained by Mr. Stookey. The orchestral score of

A BEAUTIFUL EASTER PROGRAM PRESENTED TO STUDENTS HERE

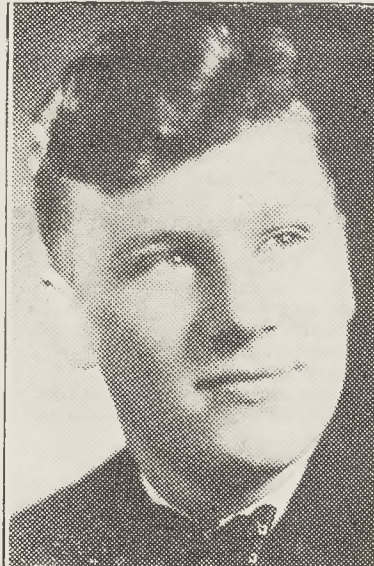

Rev. Herman T. Stevens Speaks
At Exercises Friday; Special
Musical Selections.

Easter, the anniversary of Christ's resurrection, was commemorated by a fitting program last Friday. It opened with the song "Come, Thou Almighty King," which was followed by responsive reading which Rose Askew led. Rev. H. T. Stevens uttered a prayer of thanksgiving. A selection was played by the violin quartette composed of Miss Virginia Frank, Rith Wood, Adelaide Crowell, and Mildred Von Drehle. Mr. Fred P. Hale rendered a composition by Faure, "The Palms." In a brief talk Rev. Stevens explained "The Meaning of Easter."

"Long years ago," he said, "far across the sea in Palestine something that we now celebrate occurred. It was an answer to the age-old question: If a man die, shall he live again?" "Everlasting life," the minister continued, "is the great fact promised by Christ to the world, and which He proved to doubters by His resurrection.

"Let me say to you that personality persists. You will have the same personality fifty years from now that you have today. It will persist beyond the grave, to the eternal life promised by our Saviour," concluded Mr. Stevens.

Miss Dorothy Hoskins sang an appropriate solo, which was received in silent approbation by the students. A well-executed violin solo by Miss Virginia Frank marked the conclusion.

LIBRARY REPORTERS HAVE BEEN SELECTED

Librarians Start New Method
for Eliminating Over-Due
Books; Pointer Will Publish
Room Standings.

A new method for cutting down fines, and over-due books in the school library is now being started in all the various home rooms. The method is to have a "Library Reporter" from each home room, appointed by the home room teacher. The duties of these reporters are to keep up with the overdue books out in the names of students in their respective home rooms. The reporters warn the students when a book is overdue, or just before. By this was of attempting to cut down unnecessary "red tape" with overdue, or lost books, the librarians hope to use more time for assisting the students in library work in time formerly used for this work. Of course this way may not eliminate entirely this trouble, but it will alleviate it to a great extent.

The numbers of the home rooms and the names of the library reporters follow:

101, Mildred Boswell; 105, Elizabeth James; 106, Vetra Beshears, 201, Elva Grissom; 202, Evelyn Poplin; 202A, Almedia Hoey; 203, Martha Wright; 204, Selden Mitchell; 205, Arthur Dickens; 206, Arlene Hicks; 207, Rachale Smith; 208, William Coble; 209, Irene McKinney; 210, Hazel Sebastian; 301, Cletus Smith; 302, Dale Milliakan, 303, Ruby Epps; 304, Helen Mar

Physical Ed. Teachers Attend Southern Meet

Miss Wilson, Mr. Marlette and Mr. Spencer Present at Gathering of P. E. Directors at Greensboro.

Miss Bevie Wilson, Coach Marlette, and Mr. Charlie Spencer, heads of the physical education departments of the school, attended the southern section meetings of the American Physical Education Association which met in Greensboro Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The meetings were held at North Carolina College for Women and attracted physical educational directors and coaches from all over the South. Officers of the national association, as well as some of the most prominent physical educators of the country were present, and many made talks to the assemblage. Group discussions were also held.

At a banquet held Friday night, Mr. T. Wingate Andrews, local school superintendent, was one of the speakers.

The High Point representatives felt very fortunate in being able to attend such a convention, as the meetings are seldom held in this section.

TRIANGULAR DEBATERS ARE IN READINESS FOR CONTEST HERE FRIDAY

TWO GO TO GREENSBORO

Students To Hear Frances
Douglas and Raymond Ritchie Speak With Winston
Team at Chapel Period.

Dual Debate To Be In April

Preparations have been completed for the triangular debate which will be held Friday morning at chapel period before the student body. The two speakers who will meet Winston-Salem here have finished their work, and reports from Winston are that their representatives will be ready for the combat. Frances Douglas and Raymond Ritchie will uphold the affirmative side of the question which is "Resolved: That The United States Should Join the World Court Under the Harding-Hughes Reservations." At the same time Margaret Andrews and Wilbur Hutchins will represent the negative side at Greensboro.

Of the High Point speakers, Frances Douglas and Margaret Andrews have been in the triangular debates before. Although the two other speakers have not had such previous experience, they have debated in the Oratio Club

QUESTIONS AND ESSAYS FOR FLAG CONTEST ARE DUE FRIDAY, APRIL 5TH

Papers Will Be Judged By Teachers and Results Announced Later—Six Best Will Be Memorized.

The students who have been working in the flag contest will have to have their essays, and questions in by noon April 5. However, Miss Lindsay urges that they be in by Thursday, April 4.

The answers of the questions will be considered first by the judges. The essay is next judged. The three best essays from the girls and three best of the boys will be chosen. These six people will memorize their essays, and say them on a date to be decided upon later.

The judges of the boys' papers are Mr. Patrick, and Mr. Ellington, and Mr. Owens, and Misses Misses Morton, Meador and Bulwinkle will choose the best essays of the girls.

LITTLE STORE'S SALES AMOUNT TO OVER $300

A recent survey of the sales of the Little Store show that before that shop will be able to make any profit, sixty-three dollars worth of school supplies must be sold from here. That is, the total cost of supplies to date is $335.25, while the total amount of sales is $272.25. This total includes all of the time from the middle of October, when the store was opened, up through this month. The largest amount of sales for any one month was $83.00, which was collected in February. The preceding month totaled $62.00, only seven dollars less than the amount sold from the time of October until January 1.

This last month, March, the sales amounted to $58.25.
