

ALL-DAY GIRL'S TRACK MEET TO BE HELD HERE

District Teams Will Gather For General Events Saturday, April 20; Lunch To Be Served. Ball Game In Afternoon.

There will be a girls' track meet here Saturday, April 20, in which individuals and teams from all over this district will contest, according to Miss Louise Shipman, director of girls' athletics. Miss Shipman said that the meet would last all day, and those who will participate in it are the same schools which High Point met in the basketball season.

The classes of contests are divided into two: the morning and the afternoon sections. In the morning the following track events will take place: the three or four dashes, either fifty or seventy-five yards, one of which will be entirely for freshmen; three high jumps, and seven hurdles. The throws will also come before noon. There will be no shot put or javelin throw this year, as not all of the schools have the equipment necessary for practice in these sports. There will, however, be a basketball throw, a baseball throw, and a baseball target throw. Only one relay race will be held.

From 1 o'clock to 2 o'clock the contestants, both the local ones and the visitors, will rest and "banquet." Mrs. Baylor will serve lunch at this time and probably a short program will be arranged to be given during the progress of the meal.

In the afternoon, all the interest will be centered on a baseball game to be held between two teams. These two teams will be selected as the two best from all the schools represented. They will be chosen by the grade of work they do, during the season. Local coaches hope that High Point will be able to be one of the two teams, but they will have much competition.

All those who are interested in track, and many others besides, are keenly awaiting this all-day inter-scholastic meet.

High Point tied the score in the seventh, but when Winston came to bat in the last inning they managed to shove a runner around the bases to break the tie and win the game.

OUTLOOK IS BRIGHT FOR GIRLS' BASEBALL

Practically Every Member of Last Year's Team Is Returning; No Definite Schedule Yet.

Miss Wilson says she is well pleased with the way the candidates for the baseball team are showing up and she thinks the season just coming in will be the best baseball year the High Point girls have ever had. Practically every member of last year's team is back this year, and with added material. High Point will most likely be well represented, according to the coach.

No definite schedule has yet been arranged, but two games will probably be played with one of the following schools: Greensboro, Winston, Guilford, Trinity, and Salisbury. Salisbury is the only team that was not played last year. Heretofore these schools have put out stronger teams than the locals, but it is hoped that this year the High Pointers can win 100 per cent of their games.

COACH SPENCER'S TEAM WINS TRIANGULAR MEET

High Point took six first places out of eleven events. In the 330 High Point took all three places, Curley coming in first, Williamson taking second, while Coble was third. Gurley was high scorer for the locals, making a total of fifteen points by taking three first places.

GIRLS' GYM CLASSES PLAY BALL OUTSIDE

The girls' physical education classes have started playing baseball, and when the weather permits, they play outside. In the majority of the classes there are enough girls for four teams. Thus, two games are being played at the same time. In some classes, half of the girls practice track while some play baseball. The girls seem to enjoy the spring sports after a long season of basket ball.

SCOUT WHO WENT TO AFRICA SPEAKS HERE

speaking of one night during which the three scouts took flashlight pictures of lions, Dick caused much laughter by his account of their nervousness. The picture they secured was accidentally taken, Dick said, because in his anxiety he crossed the wires too soon. But when, in the morning, they found it an excellent photograph, in his own words, "although we lost a three-hundred dollar camera and about two years of growth each, we were satisfied with the night's work."

Miss Harris announced the following program for the commencement exercises:

Sunday, June 2, Baccalaureate Sermon. Monday or Tuesday, Senior Picnic. Wednesday, June 5, Declaration and Essay Contests. Thursday, June 6, Class Night Exercises. Friday, June 7, Graduation Night.

She also told the class that the senior play will probably be "Oh! Kay!" and will be given May 12.

is in charge of most of these. The scholarships offered by the North Carolina division U. D. C., are of interest to the seniors. Some of the scholarships are awarded only to lineals descendants of Confederate veterans, while others are open to all seniors in the state. The latter are awarded on the judging of essays on "The Life of Jefferson Davis." The name of the colleges to which the scholarships are given are: Girls, N. C. C. W. or East Carolina Teachers College, and for the boys, the University of North Carolina or N. C. State college. Further information about this contest may be obtained from Miss Lindsay.

The third contest is the one sponsored by the Greensboro Committee of Colonial Dames Society, and provides that any high school student in Guilford county may enter it. To enter, the students are required to write essays, the subjects of which must be "Colonial Guilford." Ten dollars will be the award made for the best essay.

The declamation and essay contests which come during commencement week and which are open only to seniors, are also creating a good deal of attention. The essay contest is for the girls, and the boys will give declamations. Mr. M. J. Wrenn gives a medal to the girl winning the essay contest and Mr. Elwood Cox presents a medal to the boy who is given the decision in the other part of the contest. The medals are awarded on graduating night, and the winners are not known until then. Mr. Earl Andrews, debating coach, will coach the boys, and the girls will be assisted by Miss Lindsay.

recent issue of THE POINTER, the statement was made that these two winners had been studying several years, but this statement was a mistake. Miriam has had only about ten private lessons, and the younger musician has been playing the violin for only about five months. In spite of this both girls are competing with others who have studied much longer, and the High Point representatives will play pieces of the same degree of difficulty as the other contestants in the Asheville contest. The musicians who win at Asheville will go to Georgia to compete again.

Miriam will play Sioux Indian Fantasie, and Minuett by Mozart, while the violin numbers will be Concerto No. 1 by Accolay, and March Caprice by Kretzer-Sarr.

MISS BEVERLY WILSON GRANTS AN INTERVIEW

H. P. Girls' Physical Educational Prominent In College Life at N. C. C. W.; Attends Summer School.

The physical education department of the school seems not to lack in prominent personages. The college record of Coach Wade Marlette was reviewed in THE POINTER several weeks ago, so it was only natural that the reporter should next turn to Miss Beverly Wilson, head of the girls' division of the department. Miss Wilson was found in her office and graciously told some of the interesting "high lights" of her college career.

She was graduated from North Carolina College for Women, Greensboro, in 1927 with the degree of B. S. P. E. which is the standard degree for physical educational directors. She took part in the major sports, making the college varsity in hockey, soccer, baseball, and the gym teams for four years. As a reward for her part in athletics she won a college monogram and two stars, which was a total of 1,600 points according to the Athletic Conference of American College Women of which N. C. C. W. is a member.

Miss Wilson held several important offices while at college. She was president of the Athletic Association, and was captain of the varsity team and of the soccer team for two years each. Besides these, the present H. P. H. S. faculty member was class cheerleader for two years and college cheerleader for two years. She was also a member of the French club and of the Monogram club.

Since her graduation, Miss Wilson has spent each summer at some form of training in her work. During the summer of 1927 she attended Columbia University and the Wellesley college sports session. At the latter school, she received instruction from two English hockey coaches who had come over from England especially for the coaching school.

The summer of 1928 was spent in camp and in New York. She plans this summer to go to the sports session at Wellesley College in June and then to Columbia University summer school in July and August.
