walls having wild flowers entwined all along them.

Some of the modern conveniences that are common in America are unknown in the little English city.

There are no electric lights, nor any running water. Some of the buildings are over four hundred years old, so the talk went.

The speaker said that there is only one guild building left. The artisans there are well known for their work, and they have won especial fame for their sculpturing. Some other famous men as etchers, who illustrate books, also dwell there, Mr. Kirkman said in closing the description of this little village where the true old England is seen.

HI-Y BOYS PLAN TRIP TO CUBA THIS YEAR

Last year the party numbered forty and the trip carried them to Canada. Approximately forty have expressed a desire to go this year, but it is said that the number will probably be limited to about thirty. Mr. Hartley will act as adviser, and members of the Hi-Y club and others passed on by the arrangement committee will be allowed to go.

The Committee which has been working on the trip and which has completed the schedule for part of the trip, is composed of David Parsons, C. L. Gray, and Carl White Jones.
