

Avon Players to Present "As You Like It" Here

CAST INCLUDES PROMINENT ACTORS FROM STAGE AND SCREEN PRODUCTIONS

Students and patrons of High Point will have an opportunity to witness an excellent presentation of Shakespeare's romantic comedy, "As You Like It," when the Avon Players, nationally known classic company, appear in the High School auditorium on Nov. 24.

Figuring prominently in the cast of the Avon Players are well-known personalities of stage, screen, and radio that Joseph Selman, director, has gathered from such key cities as Los Angeles, New York, Chicago, and Hollywood. Assuming the leading role of Rosalind will be Carol Hill, who was featured as leading lady with Charles Winnenger on the nationally acclaimed "Show Boat" radio program. Miss Hill is appearing with the Avon Players this season for the first time, having previously been featured as leading lady with Charles Winnenger on the nationally acclaimed "Show Boat" radio program. Miss Hill is appearing with the Avon Players this season for the first time, having previously featured on the legitims stage with such personalities as Michael Whalen. Scott Tennyson, romantic juvenile, will play Orlando in "As You Like It" to be presented here. Previously, Mr. Tennyson has appeared at the Blackstone Theatre in Chicago as leading man in class repertoire. Admission will be 5c.

MISS ELOISE BEST APPOINTED ADVISER POINTER YESTERDAY

GIRL RESERVES HOLD ANNUAL MEETING TODAY

The Girl Reserves held their annual recognition services in the auditorium this morning.

Each year these services are held so that the old members can renew their pledge and new ones take it for the first time.

Mull Lutz and Donree Setzer presided at the services. Annie Louise Brown began the program by reading the scripture and leading the group in prayer.

Donree Setzer talked on the purpose of the organization, and Mull Lutz explained the meaning of the recognition services. Dot Price told the group what the Girl Reserve symbol means. At the conclusion of these talks the group repeated the Girl Reserve Code. The Girl Reserves sang "Following the Gleam," which accompanied the lighted torch ceremony.

A trio composed of Elizabeth Teague, Rachel Hunt, Annie Louise Brown, sang after the torch ceremony.

The program concluded with a talk by Miss Susanne Thomas, the Girl Reserve secretary.

fire drills and general fire prevention activities.

The newest project of the committee will be construction of new tower signs for the home rooms, stated Howard Forrest, committee chairman.

BETA CLUB DRAWS PLANS FOR YEAR

The local chapter of the National Beta Club held its second meeting on November 7. This was an important business meeting in which discussion covered not only plan for the year but present obligations, dues, and fees.

To relieve Ava Neil Taylor of being both secretary and treasurer, Posy Redman was selected to take over the duties of treasurer.

A committee was appointed to find all possible records of the Beta Club from last year. A background from previous years was found desirable since a new start has been made this year with new members and a new sponsorer. Members of this committee are Posy Redman, Marie Snider, and Irene Meekins, as chairman.

It was further decided that all fees should be paid at once in lieu of an induction ceremony at the next meeting. To have charge of this meeting and to act as regular program committee, the president appointed Ella Lou Taylor, Max Collins, and Marie Snider, with Ella Lou Taylor as chairman.

Although meetings will be held regularly, once a month it was decided to have the induction service this month on November 22.

Pointer Adviser

Miss Eloise Best will succeed Mr. Cameron D. Deans as the Pointer faculty adviser.

GLEE CLUB IN NEW ROOM

The old band room under the stage had been reconditioned and sound-proofed for use by the glee club.

New seats and equipment have brought to the chorus room. The Glee Club is now practising Christmas songs and has also begun work on the coming operetta.
