

SOPHOMORES UNDERGO PHYSICAL EXAMINATION

The physical education department under the direction of Physical Director A. J. Simeon, is sponsoring physical examinations for all the sophomore class. Since the sophomores are the only ones who participate in physical education, they come first.

It is hoped that sometime in the near future it will be possible for the entire student body to be examined. The main object of these examinations is to find the physical defects of the students, and to let the student learn that the doctor is a friend—and not a fellow to be considered an enemy.

A statement will be issued for every student who is examined, telling the conditions of that student. Steps will be made to perfect all the physical defects that occur.

The doctors who are working on examinations are local doctors doing the job—gratis.

Coach Simeon stated that the examinations will be continued until sophomores have been examined—and possibly all the students.

HUCKS, HUSSEY PLAY IN ALL-STAR GAME

The third annual Shriner's all-star game of outstanding high school performers in North and South Carolina was played in Charlotte Saturday, December 9, as South Carolina took her first victory, 12-0.

High Point was well represented by Big Jack Hussey and Captain Brantley Hucks. Hucks did not play in the game because he was called down late to fill the place of an injured North Carolina player, and before the game, the injured player recovered, thus making it impossible according to the rules for Hucks to play.

Hussey upheld the honor of High Point admirably by himself, however. He was, according to commentators over the radio and prominent sports writers throughout the state, "the most outstanding man on the North Carolina squad."

He was the only man on either team to play the full game without any relief. He was brilliant on receiving passes, and was a fast and dangerous defensive man. From the first, he was the man to watch. The most spectacular pass he caught was good for over thirty yards and he was covered well by South Carolina men.

He distinguished himself by receiving a fumbled punt, thus affording North Carolina the first decisive break of the game. In spite of the fact that North Carolina did have several good breaks, and oft-times had the ball deep in South Carolina territory, it seemed that they lacked the power and the deception to push the ball over for a score.

The squad was drilled by Coach Tom Young of Lexington whose fine Indian team did not lose a single encounter last season, and was conceded to be the best high school team in North Carolina.

A prize to the girl who first captures blond, blue-eyed Thurman Albertson. It might be done, but we doubt it. But do you know another boy over here who has such dimples?

JR. VARSITY WORK APART FROM VARSITY

Coach "Gil" Reed's little Bison of the basketball court are fast taking shape in preparation for their initial contest which will take place soon with an undetermined opponent.

Up to the present time the drills of the Jr. Varsity have consisted mostly of passing and dribbling and the fundamentals of the game. Coach Reed said that the candidates are fast showing improvement and he is optimistic for their future.

The squad is strengthened by the reporting of many of last year's Jr. high school team, which enjoyed a fine season.

The Jr. squad will entertain the local varsity fans during the season by playing preliminary games. Last season these games featured a strong sophomore team against outside rivals and the feature contests were added to considerably by the play that was exhibited in the preliminary games.

The Jr. Varsity serves much the same as the midget football squad which is proving quite valuable in training men.

Listen to this: "Violet Yokely is still fighting for jersey no. 33. It might be no. 1 now that basketball is started. Also listen to this—Why does Bill Currie insist upon having this in?"
