

BISONETTE BUZZINGS....

The new G. A. A. has lost no time in getting organized. The new gym teacher, Miss Evelyn Prescott, is very much interested in getting a large club this year.

Along with the games of soccer, volleyball, and tennis, to this fall's program have been added horseshoes, ping pong, badminton, and shuffleboard.

A representative system is being put into operation this year. The object of this group is to encourage a large membership from each class. Representing the freshman class is Martha Ellington; the sophomore class, Rebecca Jessup; the juniors, Jane Frank; and the seniors, Anne VonCannon.

The girls are definitely money-minded this year. Other than paying dues of 25 cents per semester, they have been selling programs at the Bison football games. This is to finance socials which they are planning during the year.

Recently they received an invitation to a fall playday program of soccer to be held at Greensboro High School soon. The girls are eagerly making plans to attend it.

New officers for this year's club are: President, Gwen Reddeck; vice-president, Catherine Frye; secretary and treasurer, Anne VonCannon; and club reporter, Jo Anne Meredith.

In a practice game of soccer, the sophomores and juniors formed the Red team, led by Annie Frances Stutts. This team fought furiously to the end, winning over the freshman-senior Blue team, with a final score of 4-2.

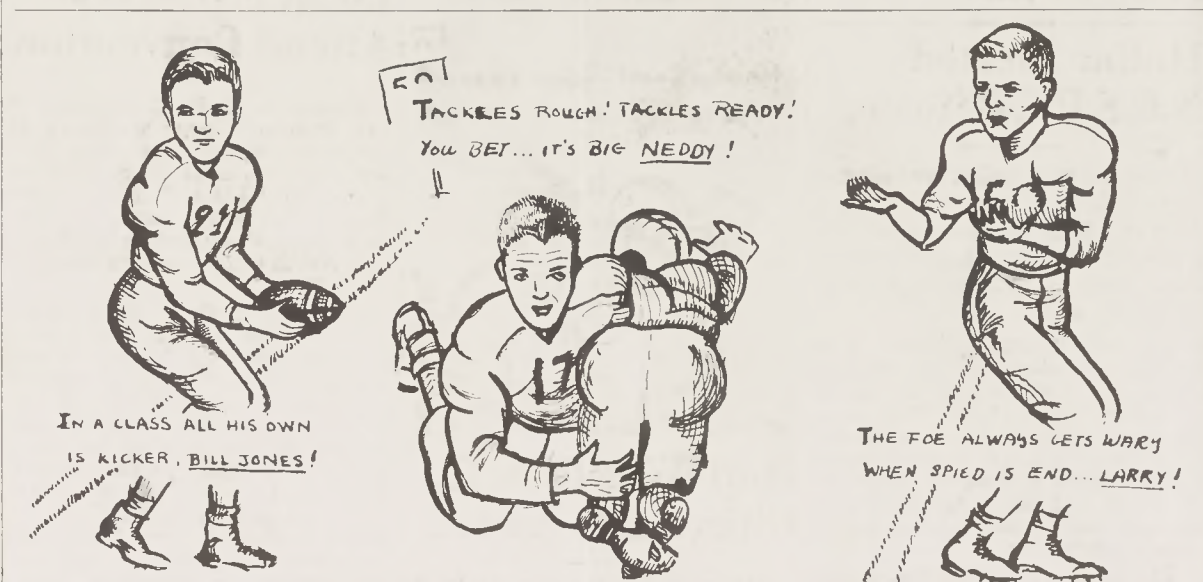

Baby Bison Defeated 13-6 By Salisbury

The High Point High School Junior Varsity suffered a 13-6 defeat from the Salisbury Jay Vees Thursday night, October 26, at Salisbury.

Playing their fourth game of the season the locals lone tally came late in the third quarter when quarterback Fred Byrd completed a 48 yard pass to Ronald Nifong who continued over for the score.

The Baby Bison had previously played Mt. Airy winning by a 20-14 score, but losing to strong Burlington Reserve in their second contest, 27-0. The Jay Vees bounced back on October 18 to roll over the same Burlington squad 6-0.

Bison Preparing To Face Reynolds And Ridenhour

As a tribute to three of the Black Bison football team's stellar players, Janet Blair has drawn the above cartoon. In case you don't "catch," the boy at left in punt formation is quarterback Billy Jones, in the center is guard Ned Weatherford, and on the right is end Larry Rhodes.

Locals Hope For Upset Over Powerful Demons

UPSET! That is the hope of the High Point High School Black Bison as they prep for their Friday night grid battle with R. J. Reynolds at Winston-Salem. The Black Demons from Forsyth are currently leading the pack in the Western Conference Class AAA race and are favored to continue their winning ways over the improving Bison.

Workhorse of the Reynolds squad has been halfback Charles "Sonny" Ridenhour, their ace passer, runner, and general point-getter deluxe. Another spark plug in the backfield has been fullback Breward Hoover, a hard charging husky who could capably lead the scoring attack should Ridenhour falter.

Chief bulwark in the Twin City school's line are All-State guard Wilson Alexander and tackle Joe Wheeling. Tom Lambe serves at an end post and is the target of most of the Demon passes.

The defense upfront for the locals has been one of the bright spots of a somewhat dull season. Most notable in the protective tactics has been Co-Captain Ned Weatherford, a constant fifth man in the enemy backfield. Other linemen who have shown-up well for the Bison have been Tackles Leroy Sellars and Tom Wood, Center Ronnie "Monk" Falls, and Co-Captain end Larry Rhodes.

Most of the backfield chores have been handled by fullbacks Jim Jarrett and Sonny Sorrell with considerable aid from halfbacks Doug Farmer, Bobby Lain, and Alman Butler.

Athlete's Feats

The name, Ned Weatherford, usually focuses a picture of a broad shouldered, six foot two inch titan in the minds of most H. P. H. S. students. A trade mark of his good natured character, however, is shown in his own easy going laughter which he is rarely without.

Ned occupies a big position at left guard on Coach Tony Simeon's gridiron squad this year. Playing his second season with the Bison, this 185 pound senior was elected Co-Captain of the 1950 High Point eleven.

Sports always seemed to attract him. "However," said Ned, "I really got started as a sophomore."

He played junior varsity football that year and also made the sophomore basketball squad. The summers of '47 and '48 were spent on the diamond as a catcher for the High Point High baseball team. Last year he was a member of the Hi-Y basketball quintet that rolled to the North and South Carolina Championship at Charlotte.

Ned has already earned his way into the Monogram Club and has certainly proved his value to the Bison this year. He represents his homeroom, 313, in the Hi-Y organization.

A final statement by Ned showed his strong dislike to—of all things—books.

Loss Of Ken Frye Dampens '50 Bison Basketball Hopes

Basketball has bounced back into the sports limelight at H. P. H. S., and the first formal practice session for the candidates for the 1950-51 edition of the Black Bison has been scheduled for next Tuesday afternoon, November 14.

Greeting Coach A. J. Simeon at the first practice call, will be one starter and four other lettermen from last year's squad. Co-Captain Frank "Creeper" Hassell is the only returning first stringer; while Larry Rhodes, Joe Robertson, Harold O'Kelley, and David Moore are the monogram winners who will report for action next week.

The chances for the local cagers to retain their state championship crown have been severely dampened with the loss of injured Ken Frye, who is not expected to recover in time to play much, if any, basketball.

Departed via graduation from the starting quintet are Ken Yarborough, Jerry Paschal, and Charlie Bryant. All-State Jack Powell has been ruled ineligible and is now attending Oak Ridge Military Academy.
