

N. H. S. Inducts 16 Seniors In Fall Candlelight Service

Flickering candlelight and soft music in a darkened auditorium furnished the background for the induction of sixteen seniors of High Point High School into the National Honor Society on October 25.

This ceremony was presided over by the president, Vivian Miller. After the devotions, taken from Matthew 16, given by Mary Lib Casey, the society members quietly left the stage and, moving through the audience, tapped those seniors who were to receive the coveted honor.

The requirements for membership: Character, Scholarship, Leadership, and Service were personified by Tommie Strother, Albert Hale, Max Williams, and Gladys Hall respectively. Frances Mull, interpreting Light, gave to the new members candles, the lighting of which symbolized knowledge and leadership.

To the strains of Handel's "Largo," played by Betty Ann Sain, pianist, and Ruth Ann Phillips, violinist, the inductees were led to the stage, where they took the pledge and received membership cards and the colors of the society.

The newly inducted seniors are: Marty Burton, Venetia Wilcox, Ramelle Hylton, Ann Allred, Anne Garst, Jimmy Lovelace, Johnny Bell, Norma Jean Ansell, Jerry Furgurson, Ronnie Current, Rachel Leonard, Teasa Bloom, Nancy Samuel, O. H. Rierson, Joann Graham, and Connie McGhee.

As customary, parents were notified of the induction shortly before the ceremony, thus making certain that the inductees had no indication that they were to be tapped.

Latin Society Elects Don Monroe President

Don Monroe was elected imperator (president) of the Junior Classical League, national Latin organization, when the group held its first meeting of the year Monday, September 25, in Room 304.

Other new officers of the organization, elected at the same time, were Sue Folger, sub imperator (vice-president); Loretta Freeman, scribe (secretary); Carol Robertson, pecuniator (treasurer); and Ted Wilson, custos (guard).

Only old members of the club attended the session, and it was from this group that this year's officers were chosen.

Under the supervision of Mrs. Vera Walden, faculty director of the Junior Classical League, plans were made for the initiation of new members.

GIBSON TELLS OF ADVENTURES

(Continued from Page 1) two miles, and staggered to the front door. Aside from this the Southern Association of Student Councils was a huge success, being climaxed by a formal banquet and dance in the famous Zebra room.

We traveled the 1200 miles home between Saturday morning and seven o'clock Monday morning. The only lengthened detourments were the collapsing of our windshield wipers at eleven-thirty Sunday night and a stop to purchase African violets.

Let me add that you can never fully appreciate North Carolina until you leave her.
