Bulletin

Peggy Kepley, a member of the rising Senior Class, has been selected to represent High Point High School in the Fifteenth Annual Tar Heel Girls' State, which will be held at Woman's College, June 6-11.

Each unit of the American Legion Auxiliary in North Carolina may send two girls who are anxious to learn good citizenship practices and to share them with their classmates. Linda Groome was elected earlier as the other representative.

Principal D. P. Whitley will preside Sunday evening. The invocation and benediction will be given by the Reverend R. G. Tuttle. The A Cappella Choir, under the direction of Dr. Charles Taylor, will furnish music for the program.

The theme "Faith, Light of Our Future" will prevail at the combination song and speech program Monday night. Members of the graduating class will write and deliver short speeches illustrating the influence of such qualities as Co-operation, Respect, Courage, Justice, Peace, Truth, and Faith on their past life and activities. Those to participate are Jimmie Casey, David Pancoast, Dean Mac Pruette, Margaret Locke, Peggy Ingram, Jerry Sowers, Wanna McAnally, and Betsy Lewis.

Again, Dr. Taylor and the A Cappella Choir will have a major part in the program as they musically depict these virtues. This is the first time in several years this type of program has been used at graduation. Miss Eleanor Young, Senior English teacher, is in charge of the speeches. The Senior Class sponsor, Mr. Harry Hendrick, will supervise over-all commencement plans.

Presiding will be Superintendent of City Schools Dean B. Pruette. Mr. Whitley will announce and present special awards while Mr. William A. Tomlinson, chairman of the school board, will award diplomas to the graduating Seniors.

Banquet To Be Held Monday At YMCA

Included among Senior activities thus far is Senior Day, and coming up is the Senior banquet, which will take place on May 24. The banquet is to take place at the Y. M. C. A.; and according to Senior Class President Jimmie Casey, the speaker will be the Reverend Mr. Robert Tuttle, pastor of the First Methodist Church.

Quite a few underclassmen were probably shocked and some were disgruntled when, on May 13, some Senior approached them saying, "Here, carry these books to 313!" The unfortunate underclassman was compelled to do so, for back to High Point High had come Senior Day. Having their books carried was just one of the things which the privileged Seniors took advantage of. Parents were probably scandalized when their sons and daughters left the house on this particular morning arrayed as they were. Blue jeans, suspenders, bow ties, and hair ribbons are but a few of the adornments worn by Senior boys and girls. Upperclassmen also had preference in the lunch line and were permitted to take "gaps." The day was highlighted by a "sock hop" in the gym during the lunch hour.

Music Monograms Given At Assembly

Members of the band and orchestra, along with members of the girls' and boys' glee clubs, and the A Cappella Choir, were awarded the National Arion Foundation awards and monogram certificates in the annual music recognition assembly on May 7.

Rachel Richardson, orchestra; Joyce Chapman, band; and Margaret Slate, choir received the Arion Award in recognition of their scholarship, citizenship, musicianship, ambition, and service during their school career. This award is sponsored by the Band Boosters' Club to encourage students and inspire them to greater scholastic effort.

One Senior member of the band, orchestra, and choir is eligible for the Arion Award. The award is presented each year to the member who has contributed the most to his organization during his school career.
