Teachers Get More Salary-Pay Less Tax

From time to time we have heard it said that one cause for the present tax burden is that taxes are not justly distributed. That is, only a few are paying any taxes at all, and also that those who have fixed incomes are not paying taxes in proportion as farmers and business concerns whose income varies and even at times shows a loss instead of any income at all.

We have copied a list of school teachers and county officials Mrs.' T. L. Liverman spent Thursand employees whose income is fixed by a stated monthly salary. Opposite each name we give the monthly salary and the yearly tax paid in 1929. It may be that some of the tax items will stand revising, as some may have property in some township Raleigh. other than the ones we located. In that event we shall be glad to make any correction in our next issue. It will be noticed that five are not listed for taxes at all, so far as we were able to find.

In a few cases as to the salaries of teachers, a superintendent's wife also teaches and draws a salary of $90 to $133.33 per month.

It is commonly stated by tax payers that the salaries of those paid from the public treasury are entirely too high. It is a Benson, visited relatives here Tuesmatter of record that the salaries of public officials and em-ATC SAVA higher than at any former If the income of ime farmers and business concerns was anything like what it was at the the peak of high prices, we suppose no one would be complaining about taxes nor salaries. As it now is, salaries of county officials and school teachers are entirely out of line when compared with the income of a great majority of the taxpayers, especially those depending on farming for a means of support. Some say salaries should be cut fifty per cent. Others contend for a straight cut of 25 per cent, and still others suggest a sliding scale of from 33 to 5 per cent. Suppose a cut of 25 per cent is made in the salary of one receiving $400 per month. He still receives $300 per month, which is an income not to be despised in this day and time. Reduce the salary of one receiving $100 per month 5 per cent, and that one still receives $95 per month, and it is hard to find a good man who will turn is visiting her parents, Mr. and regrets to them on behalf of the of uncomplexed and walk off with the great army According to a digest of the 1930-31 school budget by The Smithfield Herald, the average monthly salaries of the teachers of the six months schools next school year will be $7.65 more be hard to fill. Cut salaries 20 per cent and you have an annual saving to the taxpayers of $57,902.30. Would it help any?
