HOME ECONOMIC DEPARTMENT

The Home Economic Classes are under a new management this year, Miss Della Stroupe, from Cherryville being the supervisor.

The sewing classes are being held in the rooms formerly occupied by the Commercial Department. This is a much better location larger and away from the kitchen where lunch is prepared.

It is the aim of this Department this year to prepare and serve wholesome food for the children. A variety of food is served, at the same time being a balanced meal.

An Example of a daily Menu follows:

Vegetable Soup
String Beans Spinach
Macaroni and Cheese
Pineapple and Carrot Salad
Minc'd Meat and other Sandwiches
Cookies and Buns Milk, Chocolate and Vanilla

The menu changes each day with the exception of milk and vegetable soup. Each serving is 5c.
—E. S. A.

SENIOR CLASS NEWS

We were visited Friday by Mr. Miller from whom we selected our rings. There was no difficulty in the selection at all. A paper signed by our parents was required and the rings are to be shipped to the individual C. O. D.

Heretofore, Mr. Jervis has punished us by making us write something with ink on theme paper. He said yesterday that as times were hard, he would punish us by allowing us to read a copy of Beowulf—a story none of us have read. I think everybody took it to heart and are trying to be good.

NEWS OF THE SOPH'S

The first of last week the Sophomores elected Miss Stroupe as their Sponsor. Also we elected our class officers who are, Thomas Fitzgerald—President; Paul McMillan, Vice-President; Julia George—Secretary and Treasurer.
—E. H. V.

MY PET SQUIRREL

My pet squirrel is brown. He has a white spot on the end of his tail. My squirrel is very tricky. He can jump very far for a nut. I feed him on peanuts and hickories. My squirrel is very fond of me. I am fond of him too.
—Garland Barbour, 5 B. Miss Charlotte Nixon, Teacher.

MY PET

My pet is a dog. He is brown and white. My dog is playful. I love to play with him.

One day he was gnawing a bone. He took it to the flower garden. When I went to rake the flowers he was sitting on the flowers.

—George Marshall Willets, 5 B. Miss Charlotte Nixon, Teacher.

OUR SAND TABLE

The fourth grade has a sandtable in their room. They made them at the Selma School. They have trees on the playground. It has four little girls coming to school. It has rocks in front of the schoolhouse for you to walk on. One little girl has a little kitten with a string around his neck.
—D. H. Wilson, 4 B. Miss Lucile Robertson, Teacher.

JUNIOR CLASS NEWS

The officers elected in our class for the following year are:

Meeting of P. T. A.

Meeting for the first time since summer adjournment the members of the P. T. A. met on Monday evening in the school auditorium. Mrs. E. V. Woodard who is beginning her second term as president, presided. The meeting was opened with prayer. During the business meeting a number of announcements were made. Principal among those was the reception to be given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Woodard on Friday evening, complimentary to the school faculty. The chairman of this committee announced that no invitations would be issued but that all patrons and friends of the school were invited.

Mr. Waters made a talk in which he particularly stressed the importance of regular attendance of the pupils. Mrs. Woodard thanked each one for aid rendered in the recent tonsil-adenoid clinic. Mrs. Aycock gave a report for the ways and means committee. She reported about two hundred and seventy dollars from the recent clinic. Attendance prizes were to Miss Annie Spivey's room and Mr. Boyette's room.

Miss Lillian Louise Woodard favored the club with two lovely solos. Mrs. W. J. Crain also sang a lovely number. The pennant also went to Miss Spivey's room. The next meeting will be on Oct. 13th with Mrs. G. D. Vick in charge of the program. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served and a social period was enjoyed.

Ladies Aid

(Crowded out last week)

The Ladies Aid of the Free Will Baptist church met on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Annie Hill with Mrs. Hill and Mrs. H. C. Denning as joint hostesses. A nice sum of twenty dollars was added to the treasury, which was made in various ways. There were fourteen members and six visitors present. After the business session a social period was enjoyed. The hostess served an ice course. The October meeting will be with Mesdames C. E. Denning and Alvin Brown.

KENLY

(By MELBA WATSON)

Little Miss Nell Edgerton entertained a number of her little friends at a party at her home Monday afternoon. After enjoying the many games the guests were served ice cream, cake and candy.

Mr. Lee Edgerton and son, Cecil, and Miss Nellie Faye Edgerton of Bagley, Ga., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Edgerton and family for a few days last week.

Rev. Jas. H. Frizelle carried several of his little friends, Misses Anne and Rebecca Fulghum and Messrs. Philip Broughton and Horace Draughan, to Sasser's Mill Pond for a day's outing recently. A small tent was carried and the children played "camping," preparing their meals over an open fire. During their stay little Horace Draughan suffered a scald on his back by hot coffee.

Mr. Leon Raper, of LaCross, Va., attended to business in Kenly Saturday.

Misses Myrtle Watson and Mildred and Lela Cook shopped in Raleigh Tuesday.

Mr. Joseph Eagles has returned home after visiting relatives in Richmond, Va.

J. C. Stencil Replies to Vicious Attack Made on Him by H. V. Rose of evidence is against Mr. Rose's contention.

Some of his friends have said to me that his greatest mistake was made when he failed to apologize to Miss McLamb after having used the rough language to her about the pay checks.

It he had shown his manhood by offering an apology for this mistake made in the heat of passion, instead of trying to attack the veracity of a young lady who enjoys the confidence and respect of everybody in Johnston County, Mr. Rose would have been in much better shape to discuss with the people his favorite subject—his candidacy for re-election.

His attempt to attack the veracity of this fine young lady, who has served the county so well in the Register of Deeds office, has not been justified and his friends have been quick to see his great mistake.

Miss McLamb had nothing at stake in the matter, and there seems to have been no reason why she should have wanted to mis-represent Mr. Rose, or harm him in any way.

She was cool and composed and therefore was in much better position to remember just what was said, and done, than a person who was in a rage of anger.

I once thought that I would pass Mr. Rose's attack unnoticed; as careful reading of both of the articles would plainly show that Mr. Rose's own statements proved the correctness of what I had written, but now I hear that some of Mr. Rose's friends are saying that my silence proves that his attack was justified; and since hearing these reports I have decided to use this method to give the facts to all who may be interested in this matter.

I got into this little controversy unexpectedly and I have no desire to prolong it.

cro, spent a few days last week with her mother, Mrs. Jim Hill, near Lucama, Sunday afternoon.

Miss Beulah Ferrell and Mr. Rufus Gardner, Jr., were quietly married in Wilson Wednesday. Rev. John Barclay performed the ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Rev. W. M. Ferrell of this town.

Mr. Gardner is at present operating one of the stores of the "Spot" chain, having been in Kenly for several months.

Friends of Mrs. Jim Hill will be sorry to learn that she is ill. She has been confined for several days.

Miss Melba Watson and Misses Leona and Gladys Hodge, of the Glendale section, attended a party at Miss Katie Corbett's of Micro Saturday night.

Mrs. B. A. Lamm, Jr., and Mr. William Casper made a business trip to Goldsboro Friday.

Miss Leona Overman, of near Kenly, spent the past week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Overman.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Hooks have returned from a short visit to St. Pauls, N. C.

A group of twenty-one enthusiastic women met with Misses Mattie Pou, Cora Belle Ives, Ruth Jones and Mrs. T. J. Lassiter, of Smithfield at the home of Mrs. J. W. Darden for the purpose of organizing a Woman's Democratic Club last Friday afternoon. At this meeting the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. J. W. Darden and secretaries as follows: Mesdames H. W. Grizzard, R. T. Fulghum, C. S. Pulley, J. H. Watson, Ennis Etheridge and Miss Janie McNeill.

Messrs. Delmas Lassiter and Eddie Boykins made a business trip to Wilson Friday.

Mr. Solomon Aycock, of near Kenly, is not very much improved after receiving serious injury last week. A tree fell upon him while he was at work in the woods.

Mrs. J. J. Edgerton and sons, Jarvis and Griffin, went to Durham Tuesday. Griffin will be in school at Duke University this year.

Mr. J. W. Darden made a business trip to Wilson Thursday.

Mr. Glenn Edgerton left last week for Temple University in Philadelphia where he will continue his course in medicine.

Mrs. Pollie Ricks is resting as well as can be expected after having a stroke of paralysis Wednesday night.

Miss Grace Watson and Mr. Felton Watson visited Miss Rena Grant of near Selma Sunday.
