The Fairview Morning Service. We are to have a rather unique service at Fairview this coming Sunday morning. It will follow very closely a Biblical truth illustrated in the mysteries of the Magnetic Field in Magnetism. This will be illustrated and the young people and all alike will likely be very much interested in it. Invite your friends to come out with you Sunday morning.

Oak Grove Busy Reading Bible. The Oak Grove people are very busy these days reading the Bible. They are divided into two groups, and reading in competition for the highest number Bi-monthly. They are averaging about 1500 chapters to each two weeks. Might be will if some of the other churches would also get interested in the Oldest and Greatest Book in the world.

Why not ask your church to try it for the remaining summer?

Hen Lays Huge Egg.

A hen belonging to Con-table R. W. Franklin, of Durham, probably-believes in the saying "the bigger, the better." She laid an egg eight and one-half inches long and six and one-half inches in circumference. Franklin said he would preserve it.

The 15 strawberry growers of Claremont, Catawba County, who recently organized a small association sold over $1,000 worth of berries during the third week of operation. The berries are in demand because of their high quality and good pack.

William Steele, a young colored farmer of Harnett county, has sold $9,000 tomato plants and 180,000 cabbage plants from his hot beds up until May 1.
