Rev. and Mrs. Davis Pleasantly Surprised

Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Davis were pleasantly surprised on Monday evening when members of Sardis, Blackmon's Grove and the Four Oaks churches called on them, everyone bringing a gift. There were gifts of crystal, money, groceries, chickens and fresh vegetables, in fact some of everything that is needed in a home.

Herb's Got a Great Little Wife

Everybody's talking about what a grand job Herb Ham is doing at the war plant. Not just one shift, but two a day—to help build the war materials our men need.

Good for Herb! But I'd like to say a word for Mary, Herb's wife. She runs the house, cooks the meals, takes care of the children, and works on salvage drives and bundles for the Red Cross. Believe me, that's tiring work for any woman!

Yet when Herb comes home—too tired to talk or watch where he drops his ashes, she makes allowances, keeps smiling, brings him a refreshing glass of beer, and makes a light conversation for them both. Next morning, Herb goes to work refreshed and cheerful.

From where I sit, women like Mary Ham are doing a great war job themselves... being tolerant and kind to husbands who are working under a heavy wartime strain. Bully for them!

RADAR

Spotted Enemy Targets Through Darkness, Smoke or Fog

The Bell System — The largest source of Radar for our fighting forces

THIS is not surprising for Radar development and production stems from the same roots that produced and continue to nourish this country's telephone system.

Radar, the instrument which enabled our land, sea and air forces to spot enemy targets through darkness, smoke or fog, was one of the outstanding new fighting instruments of the war.

Two years before Pearl Harbor the Government asked Bell Telephone Laboratories to put its wide experience and knowledge of electronics to work to help perfect Radar as a military instrument. From then on the Laboratories co-operated closely in the Radar program with the National Defense Research Committee, with Army and Navy specialists, and with scientists of Great Britain.

The Western Electric Company, manufacturing branch of the Bell System, became the Nation's largest supplier of Radar systems. One type it made was universally used by B-29's in the Pacific for navigation, target location and high altitude bombing. Another played an important part in aiming the guns on our warships.

If you're waiting for a home telephone, it helps a little to know that Radar is one of the reasons. For years telephone manufacturing plants were devoted to war needs.
