The Thanksgiving Program

The Thanksgiving program was presented by the Student Council on November 20, 1962 in the school library. The students participating on the program were Beverly Hinton, Roosevelt Maske, Claude Mayfield, Nathaniel Boykins, and members of the Choral Ensemble, featuring Wessie Cunningham as soloist. Mr. William Lindsay also favored us with a vocal rendition.

The speaker for the occasion was Reverend Charlie Hart, a graduate of Carver College who is now majoring in religious education at Johnson C. Smith University. Currently, Rev. Hart is serving as minister of the Friday Memorial Baptist Church which he organized.

Using the subject, "Pray Continually and Give Thanks," Rev. Hart admonished us to pray not only for things that we want, but pray for the things that we already have; this, in turn, means prayer by giving thanks. As we approach the Thanksgiving Season, this should be pondered in our hearts. For the real purpose of Thanksgiving is to be thankful for what we have. Thus I say to you, "Pray continually and give thanks." Sarah Berry, Reporter.

Lyceum Program a Grand Success

"See How They Run," a Broadway play, featuring Broadway stars was presented by the Mecklenburg College Lyceum Committee on Friday, November 16, 1962, 7:30 p.m., at Northwest Junior High School auditorium.

The proceeds will go for the benefit of the Scholarship Fund. The scene of the play was a pleasantly furnished hall in the Vicarage at Merton-Cummiddlewick, a small village in England. The Story:

Galloping in and out of the four doors of an English Vicarage are an American actor and actress (he is now stationed with the Air Force in England), a cockney maid who has seen too many American movies, an old maid who "touches alcohol for the first time in her life," four men in clergy-men's suits presenting the problem of which is which, for disguised as one is an escaped prisoner, and another a sedate bishop aghast at all these going on and the trumped-up stories that are told him.

This rollicking farce was a complete success. The humor was hilarious, at times, for the capacity audience attending. For selling the highest number of tickets, first, second, and third prizes were given to Jeannetta Pearse, Roberta Morrison, and Fred Alexander, respectively. Bernice Owens, Reporter.

BUSINESS EDUCATION GRADUATES IN ACTION

In the thirteen-year history of MC (formerly Carver College), approximately 175 students have graduated from the business department. As we look back over the years in wonderment as to where is this group of maturing individuals, it is with satisfaction and pride that we report on just a few of the recent graduates.

From Bettye L. Bost, graduate of Logan High School, Concord, North Carolina, and a 1962 MC graduate, comes the following letter:

November 9, 1962

To: Mecklenburg College
Secretarial Science Department

I wish to thank you for the beautiful greeting you sent me. It has made me very happy and thankful; thankful for having attended Mecklenburg College, thankful for its teachers, and thankful for my former classmates.

To those who are in their last year of training, may I say to you: Take all that Mecklenburg College has to offer, for you also can use it well. Government jobs are plentiful. All that is required is to pass the Civil Service Examination.

On my job, as clerk-typist for the Manuscripts Section in the Library of Congress, my duties include typing, clerical, and administrative work. I like my job very much, and am very grateful to Mrs. Booton for giving me a good foundation.

Since my arrival here, I have had the pleasure of touring the Supreme Court, The House, and the Senate Building. I am enclosing a picture of the Library of Congress, the building where I work. Thank you again for your expression of interest in me. Good luck to all of you.

Sincerely yours,
Bettye L. Bost.

Miss Lois Gene Gore an honor graduate of Brunswick County Training School, Southport, North Carolina, May 1958, and of Mecklenburg College, June, 1960, is now employed as an executive secretary in the Department of Agriculture.

Mrs. Delores Witherspoon Craddolph, a 1959 graduate of Mecklenburg College (formerly Carver College) acquired a job as bookkeeper in the new branch office of the Mechanics and Farmers Bank, Charlotte, North Carolina. During Mrs. Craddolph's two years in college and in high school (West Charlotte), she was an outstanding student.

Miss Kathleen Roseboro a graduate of Second Ward High School and Mecklenburg College is employed as secretary at Myers Street School.

Miss Loretta Belton is serving as a clerk-typist at Good Samaritan Hospital.

Also employed in their chosen fields are Mesdames Loretta Crowder Stanley, Dorothy Davis, and Priscilla Davis, as secretaries in the administrative office of the Second Ward High School.

The Staff of the Chronicle wishes for all of you—
