GLANCE BACK THROUGH '37 RECALLS MOMENTS OF INTEREST CONCERNING HAPPENINGS

(Juanita Coppedge and Sara Hutchens)

JANUARY

In the year 1937 many interesting things occurred at Junior High School. Among the most interesting was the visit of Mrs. Steve Clark. She visited several rooms showing some articles that came from China and Japan. Some of the things shown were dolls displaying the dress of the different classes of people in China and Japan.

FEBRUARY

Billy Beaver moved to High Point from Ohio. He told of experiences in the flood districts.

Miss Adam's room won the basketball championship. The two leading scorers were Albert Evans and Darrell Truitt.

Everyone enjoyed Mr. Hartley's interesting talk on Mexico.

Winifred Bulla said it would take a nice home, lots of money, lots of beautiful clothes, a fine car, plain foods, a garden with many flowers, a swimming pool in the yard, and a nice husband to make her contented.

MARCH

Grady Goldston went on a trip to California via Mexico. He saw Golden Gate Bridge, Yosemite Park, and Hollywood.

The three pupils who made the highest grades on the Current Event Test were Carl Bailey, 206; Stanley Ershler, 115, and Pete Smith, room 209.

In the March issue of The Junior Pointer, Betty Brockman wrote about her visit to Congress. This article was very interesting.

Also in this month, Mrs. Frost gave a very unique program. It consisted of a "Prof. Quiz" act, George Humphries as the professor; a contest for the biggest liar, Bill Currie won that title, and last Nancy Cox and Jo Ingram called upon several teachers to contribute to the program. Among them were Mr. Loman, Miss Poole, Miss Moore, Miss Deans, and Miss Idol.

APRIL

Miss Walker presented the pupils of Junior High School with an excellent program on artists and their pictures.

Gloria Ilderton went to Detroit Michigan for week.

Mary Anne Thomas had a very enjoyable trip to Washington, D. C.

She was fortunate in being there for annual Cherry Blossom Festival.

OCTOBER

Miss Dean's Science classes made visits to the city Filtration and Disposal plants.

Miss Walker was teaching a special art class this year, to eighth grade pupils who were interested in art.

Mr. Carroll talked to the pupils of Junior High School. The theme of his talk was duty. He said "The greatest thing in the world is to find your duty and do it."

DECEMBER

Probably the greatest highlight of all was the presentation of the annual Christmas play. This year it was "Five Little Peppers." Mrs. Harrison was director of the play.

We hope this year may bring as many good things to us as last year did.

SHADOWGRAPH SCENES PRESENTED BY 210

Recently room 210 gave an interesting chapel program. It was given on a shadowgraph which showed scenes of the most interesting and important events during 1937. Kitty Stancell was the announcer who told something interesting about each scene.

The first scene was the inauguration of President Roosevelt.

The second was the flood in the Mississippi Valley. Following this scene was the crash of the Hindenburg which the audience seemed to appreciate most of all. Immediately following this scene we had the tragedy of Amelia Earheart, and after this the Yacht Race for the American Cup.

The scene "Going Back to School" followed the yacht Race for the American Cup.

Next we had Carolina and Duke playing football.

The program, illustrated by the shadowgraph and announced by Kitty Stancell, was a big success and was enjoyed by everyone.

ON VISIT TO FLORIDA

Aubrey Perkins went to Miami, Florida, last Saturday for a ten-day vacation. He will be back in school next Monday with interesting news from the land of the flowers.

ORGANIZE NEW CLUB; PRESIDENT ELECTED

(Dina Taylor and Carolyn Jones)
In order to give the pupils of 112 practice in the organization and conduct of a club, we have been studying Robert's Rules of Parliamentary Procedure.

After practice in organizing clubs, we decided to elect officers and have a Book Club. Officers were elected as follows: President, Horace Haworth; vice-president, Marguerite Murray; secretary, Dina Taylor; and club adviser, Miss Munroe. A book list was discussed and it was decided that every boy and girl should read and report on one classic. Those appointed to arrange the book list were Dina Taylor, Carolyn Jones, Helen Craven, and Jack Jackson. The president appointed Marguerite Murray, Jacqueline Price, and Lewis Watkins to draw up the constitution for the club.

The purpose of our club is to read more classics and works of the most famous writers. A discussion of authors whose classics we plan to read was held, after which the meeting was adjourned to meet again in two weeks.

THE DANCE OF THE MOLECULES

The molecules gave a party one day. For guests they had invited to stay. The party was given in their scrap iron house.

So no one was as still as a mouse. The molecules, although they were very small,

Still bumped each other against the wall.

And with the music they began to prance,

While John Molecule called the dance.

They danced until their house got hot,

As hot as the flame beneath a pot.

They were going around, you may guess, so fast,

That they swung baby molecule into a gas.

WE ARE WONDERING WHY:

Herbert Hodgin has been so broken heated recently.

Phyllis Strickand never reads a library book during lunch period any more.

Juanita Coppedge likes to go to Miss Andrews' room on Tuesday.

Byron Grandjean doesn't talk as much as he did last year.

Betty Dean Knox is so hard hearted here lately.

Bill Currie changes his mind so much.

A certain telephone call broke Cecil Garrett's heart one night last week.

George Humphreys isn't as excited about V. B. as he once was.

Russel Straet is so popular with S. R.

Jimmy Smith is getting so popular.

William Shakespeare didn't run out of words before he finished writing Julius Caesar.

Gloria Ilderton still smiles so sweetly at that certain ladies' man in 205.

BELIEVE IT OR NOT

Arnold Koonce is a noble G-man.

Mrs. Williams has recently had the mumps.

A cello is being called a horn.

Mr. Loman is speaking in a low voice.

Bob Hedrick fell off a see-saw.

GARNETT HINSHAW INTERVIEWS TEACHERS WHO HAVE TRAVELED EXTENSIVELY

Miss Washburn enjoys traveling very much and spends much of her time in that way. She has been to the West Indies, which are eleven in number. She has been to South America twice. Quito, which is on the equator is a very delightful place because of its altitude, which keeps it from being so hot. Miss Washburn likes Quito very much. She has never been below the equator but has been to all of the countries in South America north of the equator. On her trip West Miss Washburn thought Kansas was the prettiest and most progressive state and Utah was the hottest. She is now planning to go to Europe in 1940 to see the Passion Play in Germany and also to go to the World's Fair in New York in 1939.

Miss Nash went to the World's Fair in Chicago in 1933. In 1934 she sailed for Europe on an Italian boat "The Saturnia." She visited fourteen countries and was gone two months. While she was in Germany she saw the Passion Play. It was the 300th. Anniversary. Miss Nash says she enjoyed Italy, Germany and England the most, Italy because of its beauty, Germany because of it is different, beautiful, and interesting, England because it is historical. Miss Nash went to New York in the summer of 1936, where she attended Columbia University's summer school. She wants to go to New Orleans and South America.

Miss Munroe went around the world when she was a child. She went from Japan to China, to Ceylon to Paris, to London and then to New York. She has lived in Japan in both northern and southern parts. She has lived in Texas a year, in New York a winter and two summers. She has been to Florida three times; across the Continent and Pacific Ocean six times. She has been to Honolulu three times; and to the Aleutian Islands. Miss Munroe has sailed from both San Francisco and Seattle. She has lived in Virginia two years and North Carolina eleven years. She has been in about forty-two or forty-three states in the Union. She went to World's Fair in San Francisco as a child. She enjoys traveling very much and has been to French North America.

WELCOME, STUDENT TEACHERS

The students of Junior High welcome five new practice teachers. They are Miss Frances Gueth, Miss De Lois Presley, Mr. Oco Gibbs, Mr. Earl Brenkley, and Mr. Howell. They are observing now, but will soon start teaching. We are very glad to have them, and hope they are enjoying their work.
