

THE SOCIAL WHIRL

By The Tatler

As the year 1929 has made its debut; since the year has dawned upon us we feel that it is high time to introduce a bit of low down. However, most of the boys are living an esoteric life at present in preparation for that grand clash, the mid-term exams. Only a few: Hayes, Ozier, Scipio, Chavis and Ricks, to be exact, continue at their same rite of socializing; hence, there is scarcely any news.

Last month "Try N. Findout" wondered why one R. A. Ricks was wearing dark spectacles. Surely this aroused our curiosity, so we made a slight investigation. Some thought that he was rushed by I Damma U, but we found different. Here it is. The male party aforementioned, becoming weary of the monotony of one girl, ventured out in quest for another, and by the way, one that could not only dress his vulnerable heart, but physical wounds also. The lady of the Third Ward, ascertaining the authenticity of the clandestine meeting of the said "Ralph" with the one in First Ward, became obfuscated, slightly peeved or rather enraged. This with all certainty precipitated the ebony eye. Can she wield Funny That Way."

While the city sleeps "Hob" Biggs with the degree C. C. (meaning conspicuous conceitedness) continues his maneuvers not as a Lon Chaney but as a Barrymore. Being elected as Captain of the All-American Backbiters' team, he is exemplifying it by his actions. Like a honey bee he goes hither and thither extracting honey from others' flowers. First on Jackson, then on McDowell and so on. Since the purchase of a Dodge he is losing ground at his mainstay. Bad Boy Biggs!

It seems impossible to keep the name of "Naps" Johnson out of our columns. This Beau Brummel seems to encounter difficulty with all of his many girl friends. Even in Charlotte there is the "Count" Trez Anderson who seems to be quite a bit of trouble, a thorn in his side. Every Sunday afternoon after "Dusty" leaves for chapel, Trez invariably walks in to enjoy the evening. There ought to be a law against it. When you get to be a Senior you can eschew that responsibility.

Now as to the "weakness." We do not know exactly who is the B. F. of this bunch of bewildering fascination and pulchritudinous personality. Troy and "Idewise" Vick, his good friend, seem to have equal shares. Esprit de corps, maybe. We do not know why the former is so altruistic, but when it comes to sharing colic, it is precarious. Now who is the fish? Remember we must first have the rain if we have the rainbow.

We perused the various programmes of "Herr" Leon that he brought from the Pan Hellenic Conclave. Do you believe that the same dame's name, unless my vision was faulty, was a constant throughout? Asked why, he retorted, "She had S. A. He never cared for S. A. but she had S. A. and that was his weakness, boys."

Tough breaks. Van Chavis, after going home and to Cheraw, found his "Used to Be" not used to him as she had acquired Mrs. Moreso. The hubby was conspicuous by his presence. Discouraged he comes back to the Queen City ahead of time, reporting a bad Christmas but for the "vin rouge." He willingly confesses that right here exists the "Ace" of his royal flush of hearts. We hear him singing, "If I can't have you for my own, I must go through life alone; That's how I feel about you, sweetheart."

Manly, Jones, House and Dusenbury came back from the holiday recess declaring that Asheville is the wettest place in North Carolina and fun galore. They've never heard of Volstead there.

Station W—H—O. We now introduce a personage whose stock in the social sphere exceeds General Motors' in the business world. What's more, he's tall and bronze and handsome. However, we are not going to divulge the name of this famous Charlestonian, as we are certain that the writer of the "College Gleanings" would not acquiesce in the above. Anyway this Othello first matriculated at Smith suffering with acute aversion to Eve's progenital female posterity proclaiming that he was least interested in "skirts." Recently this deboniar youth was converted by "Rudy" Dockery, '28. His proclivities have shown a marked contrast ever since and those old-fashioned inhibitions are no longer discernible.

His social itinerary includes Greensboro. Salisbury, Charlotte, Gastonia, Orangeburg and Charleston. Each Sunday or week-end he spends at one of these cities. We must commend this Junior for being able to manipulate his social affairs so dexterously as to eschew an estrangement and also remain in their good graces. We all envy Klem, Jr. (There, now; I did not intend giving his name.) Signing off. Bon Nuit.

EXCHANGES

The staff of "The University Student" wishes to acknowledge the following exchanges:

Alabama

"Barber Echoes," Barber College, Anniston.

"The Hub," Bessemer High School, Bessemer.

"The Milean," Miles Memorial College, Birmingham.

"The State Normal Courier-Journal," State Normal School, Montgomery.

"The Mule's Ear," Talladega College, Talladega.

"The Bulletin," Tuskegee Institute, Tuskegee.

Arizona

"The Copper Chronicle," Bisbee High School, Bisbee.

Arkansas

"The Panther," Arkansas College, Batesville.

"The Mountain Eagle," College of Ozarks, Clarksville.

"The Golden Goblin," Harrison High School, Harrison.

"The Torchlight," Hot Springs High School, Hot Springs National Park.

"Tuba Agricola," Arkansas Polytechnic College, Russellville.

"The High Life," Texarkana High School, Texarkana.

California

"The Wampus," University of California, Los Angeles.

"The Occidental," Occidental College, Los Angeles.

"The State College Azter," San Diego College, San Diego.

Colorado

"The Window," University of Colorado, Boulder.

"Live Wire," Greeley High School, Greeley.

Connecticut

"The Road to Freedom," The Freedom Press, Haverford.

"The West Haven Rostrum," West Haven High School, West Haven.

Delaware

"The Crisp," Caesar Rodney High School, Camden.

"Wilmington High School News," Wilmington.

District of Columbia

"The International Student," The Driscoll, 1st and B Sts., Washington.

"The Hilltop" and Howard Medical News," Howard University, Washington.

"The Armstrong Torch," Armstrong Technical High School, Washington.

Florida

"The Advocate," Bethune-Cookman College, Daytona Beach.

Georgia

"The Scroll" and "The Crimson and Gray," Atlanta University, Atlanta.

"The Mentor," Clark University, Atlanta.

"The Maroon Tiger" and "The Morehouse Journal of Science," Morehouse College, Atlanta.

"Spelman Messenger," Spelman College, Atlanta.

"The Atlanta World," 210 Auburn Ave., Atlanta.

"The Painite," Paine College, Augusta.

"The Piedmont Owl," Piedmont College, Demorest.

"The Georgia School Picture," A. & M. State School, Forsyth.

"The Fort Valley Messenger," Fort Valley Normal, Fort Valley.

Idaho

"College Coyote," The College of Idaho, Caldwell.

Illinois

"De Paulia," De Paul University, Chicago.

"Lake Review," Lake Review High School, Chicago.

"The Prospects," East St. Louis High School, East St. Louis.

"St. F. A. Newsettes," St. Francis Academy, Joliet.

"The Stentor," Lake Forest College, Lake Forest.

"Augustana Observer," Augustana College, Rock Island.

Indiana

"Shortridge Daily Echo," Shortridge High School, Indianapolis.

"The Wilsonian," Wilson High School, Muncie.

"The Normal Advocate," Indiana State, Terre Haute.

Iowa

"The Iowa Home Maker," Iowa State College of Agriculture and Mechanical Arts, Ames.

"The Ames Hi Web," Ames Senior High School, Ames.

"The Bumble B," Boone High School, Boone.

"The Portfolio," Parson College, Fairfield.

"The Porcupine," Hamburg High School, Hamburg.

Kansas

"The College of Emporia Bulletin," Emporia College, Emporia.

"The Sumner Courier," Sumner High School, Kansas City.

"The Lincolnite," Lincoln High School, Kansas City.

"The Oracle," Kingman High School, Kingman.

"The Crimson Rambler," Wellington High School.

"The Benham 'Hi'," Benham High School, Wellington.

Kentucky

"The West Kentucky Bell," Tilghman High School, Paducah.

"The Record," Pikeville College, Pikeville.

Louisiana

"Southern University Digest," Southern University, Baton Rouge.

"The Buzzer," Baton Rouge High School, Baton Rouge.

"The Tulane Hullabaloo," Tulane University, New Orleans.

"New Orleans University Bulletin," New Orleans University, New Orleans.

"The Xavier Herald," Xavier University, New Orleans.

"The Crimson Courier," Straight College, New Orleans.

"Nueva Patria," 1735 Broadway, New Orleans.

Maryland

"The Oriole," Baltimore City College, Baltimore.

"The Owl," Westminster High School, Westminster.

Massachusetts

Durfee Hilltop," Durfee High School, Fall River.

"The Screech Owl," Maynard High School, Maynard.

"The Reflector," Millsbury High School, Millsbury.

"Smith College Monthly," Smith College, Northampton.

"The Dunbar Observer," Dunbar High School, Washington.

"The Golden Rod," Quincy High School, Quincy.

"Sphinx," Shrewsbury High School, Shrewsbury.

"Commerce," High School of Commerce, Springfield.

"The Craftsman," Vocational High School, Springfield.

"The Tuftonian," Tufts College, Tufts College.

"The Clark Monthly," Clark University, Worcester.

"The Record," North High School, Worcester.

"Index," South High School, Worcester.

"School Spirit," David Hale Fanning School, Worcester.

Michigan

"The Central Student," Central High School, Detroit.

"The Owl," 576 Beacon Street, Detroit.

"The High News," Vocational and Technical High School, Grand Rapids.

"The Cosmos," Hamtramck High School, Hamtramck.

"The Bay Window," Muskegon Junior College, Muskegon.

"Blue and Gold," Traverse City High School, Traverse City.

Minnesota

"The Arrowhead Pinnacle," Falls High School, Falls.

"Glenconian," The Glenconian Schools, Glencoe.

Mississippi

"Baptist Signal," Jackson College, Jackson.

"T. C. Flyer," Tougaloo College, Tougaloo.

"Magnolia Avenue High School News," Magnolia Ave. H. S., Vicksburg.

Missouri

"The Northwest Missourian," Northwest Missouri State Teachers' College, Maryville.

"Park College Record," Park College, Parkville.

"The Bartlett Reminder," Bartlett High School, St. Joseph, Mo.

"The United World," 412 South Jefferson Ave., St. Louis.

Montana

"The Kyote," Billings High School, Billings.

"The Konah," Missoula High School, Missoula.

(Continued in the next issue)

Why be bothered with decorating when

FLETCHER & LEE
Interior Decorators

Will serve you. We have the latest designs just from Broadway. Foreign Designs a Specialty. Terms reasonable.

Room 15 Berry Hall

JOHNSON C. SMITH UNIVERSITY

MAXWELL CLOTHES

From Maker to Wearer
ALL WOOL

One Price: $17.85

38—E. Trade St.