Restaurant opening soon at Mall

Ever want to feast your salad loving eyes on a whole tub of lush salad makings? Well, CARRIE NATIONS, Twin Rivers' newest store, will present that opportunity with not one, but two antique claw-footed bath tubs brimming with crisp vegetables in what will be one of the most unique salad bars ever!

CARRIE NATIONS' entire Twin Rivers store decor will be spiced with imagination - an antique marble top back bar will be a focal point. Cooper top tables, wicker, stucco and large picture windows will make this restaurant an update of all other CARRIE NATIONS. The tentative opening date at Twin Rivers has been set for July 15.

An inexpensive menu with prices from $1.00 has much family appeal - sizzling steaks, fish and fowl, quiche, soups, salads and sandwiches (including seven ways with hamburgers) and liquor by the drink will please a variety of tastes. Those who have sampled the spinach salad with poppy seed dressing declare that it is indeed worthy of being one of house specialties.

CARRIE NATIONS has three other locations - Myrtle Beach, S. C. Florence, S. C. and Augusta, Ga.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Band says thanks

Dear Members of the Rescue Squad and Citizens of Vanceboro:

In my four years at West Craven our band has tried to meet the performance needs of the community in every way possible. I feel our efforts are rewarded every day by the support we have received from you, the many kind letters, and favorable personal remarks. It is with deep regret that the West Craven Marching Eagles must decline your invitation to perform on June first due to our academic calender. I personally offer my services and support as I have set this date aside to support you in your activities.

To explain our situation, the policy of West Craven High School forbids any extracurricular activities during the last two weeks of school. This is to insure that all students have ample time, unencumbered to prepare for final exams, term papers, and to complete assignments.

It is my hope that the Vanceboro Rescue Squad will meet with every success this year but will try to schedule next years activities so that we can offer the services of the West Craven Marching Eagles.

Sincerely yours,
Joseph R. Sizemore
Director of Bands

Editor's Note:

We encourage you to write letters to the editor concerning problems, questions or any issues you would care to discuss.

The letters being subject to standards of good taste, fact and language will be published as soon as possible.
