

LITTLE STORE

This year Sylvia Cullum is in charge of the Little Store on the bottom floor of Smedes Hall. Opening hours will be the same: little recess, four o'clock in the afternoon, and after study hall at night. We know that you will enjoy this privilege, and the STAGE COACH Staff and the Senior class will appreciate your patronage.

ANNUAL CHURCH CANVASS

Sunday Afternoon, a group of girls appointed by Mr. Guess will make an every member canvass of the school to determine the amount to be pledged to the church during the coming school year. These pledges cover not only the expenses of St. Mary's chapel, but also the sum pledged by the school for the foreign mission work of the church. St. Mary's does not fix an amount for each girl to give. We only ask that you give what you honestly feel that you are able; remember your contribution each Sunday, and—we thank you.

HUNTING SEASON OPENS-CANDID CAMERA

Hunting season has indeed opened, and what the Annual Staff is after is candid camera shots for the STAGE COACH.

There's plentiful game around. What about pictures of the Big Apple Session or a picture of your roommate standing on a table, tangled in the curtains she is trying to put up. Then there are some campus favorites who for some strange reason have remained unphotographed since they became permanent fixtures at St. Mary's: Mr. Shaw, who is responsible for our mail getting to Chapel Hill, Durham, Wake Forest, and all points west; Susie (not to be confused with Suzy Q), who sits in the parlor, and Mr. Scott, and Mr. Brooks. "Shooting" people is fun; no Sherlock Holmes regalia is necessary; and the Annual definitely wants pictures. Come on now. Be mean and "shoot" everybody, even your best friend.

The annual wants a Candid Camera Editor. If you are interested, see the Editor-in-Chief, Mary Jane Yeatman.

As Student Body president for this year, Mary Louise so far has been successful in her trying job. She rooms on first floor Holt, and if anyone is in trouble she is the first one in school that wants to help. Although she is slender, and compared with the large task she has before her, very small, her personality renders her master of every situation and difficulty. Therefore, let's help her by trying as much as we can to make the honor system and this whole year a success.

NOTE ON ORGANIZATIONS

To help you understand some of the leading clubs of Saint Mary's, we are including this brief survey.

Ever since 1927 the Young People's Service League has been one of the most active and most influential of our organizations. Each year five regular meetings are held, the programs for which are prepared by the various classes. The officers at present are Mary Jane Yeatman, President, and Mary Louise Riddick, Vice President. Among the League's activities is the support of an orphan at the Thompson Orphanage in Charlotte, and help given to the mission church at Little Switzerland.

Membership in the literary societies is based on particular interest shown in those branches of literature not included in our classroom work. Both town and resident students are eligible for membership, the number of those belonging usually not exceeding twenty for each society. Meetings are held twice a month, the two societies alternating their meetings. This year Ann Dawson is president of the Sigma Lambdas, and Jean Blount will preside over the E. A. P.'s, and the first meeting, a joint one, will be held Wednesday, September 29th.
