

EXAMS Are Over

BELLES

OF SAINT MARY'S

Next Event
SPRING HOLIDAYS

VOL. I, No. 8

RALEIGH, NORTH CAROLINA

FEBRUARY 4, 1938

CIVIC MUSIC ASSOCIATION PRESENTS HANS KINDLER AND THE NATIONAL SYMPHONY

On Friday, January 28th, the Civic Music Association presented their third program—The National Symphony Orchestra conducted by Hans Kindler. Their program was "Toccata" by Frescobaldi, "Symphony in F minor No. 4" by Tchaikovsky, "Miniatures" by Paul White, "Entr'acte Music from 'Rosamunde'" by Schubert, and "Waltzes from 'DeRosenkavalier'" by Strauss.

The symphony appeared last year with the association, and Saint Mary's students had looked forward to this program for a long time. Although there may be many students with a meager knowledge of music, very few of them could attend this concert without appreciating the magnificent technique shown in the "Toccata," the depth of feeling of the "Symphony," the picturqueness of the "Miniatures" or the gay melodic freshness of the Strauss "Waltzes."

PUBLICATIONS STAFF TO RECEIVE KEYS

For the first time outstanding members of the staff of the Stagecoach, the Bulletin, and the Belles will receive recognition for their efforts by being awarded gold keys. The three editors, the business manager of the annual, and the most valuable staff members selected by them will receive the keys, the exact style of which has not yet been decided. They will probably have some form common to all the publications and the owner's name on the back. This should be an incentive to better work for all the staff members.

D. D. C. BEGINS NEW PROJECT

The D. D. C. has recently undertaken a very praiseworthy project. The girls decided at their last meeting that they would like to do more for the family to whom they gave the Christmas basket. Each girl will give a certain sum per month that they would have used for some luxury to these unfortunate people. This to us may not seem such a great gift, but to them it will be a real blessing.

On February 9, the D. D. C. is to be entertained at a tea given by Dr. and Mrs. Haywood, and Mrs. West, wife of Dr. West, at the Rex Hospital. There will be three interesting addresses made to the girls by men and women associated with the hospital.

CAMPUS NOTES

On Monday night, February 7th, in the Auditorium, Mr. Carleton Palmer will deliver an illustrated lecture on art. Mr. Palmer is an acquaintance of Saint Mary's. For some two years ago he lectured before the Student Body in a lively, interesting manner.

In his attempt to increase people's appreciation of fine art work, Mr. Palmer travels with a finely chosen collection of paintings, some of which are copies of great pictures, while others are originals. These copies and originals, Mr. Palmer finds, are stimulating as well as necessary to his pleasant manner of explaining the technique and interpretation of the respective pictures.

The Belles feels quite safe in predicting an entertaining evening.

Betsy Thomas has returned from new Rex Hospital and is recuperating in the infirmary. "All the girls" have sent flowers and best wishes for her a quick convalescence. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas drove down from Maryland to be with her.

* * *

Miss Davis and Miss Haig were on the program at a tea at the Governor's Mansion Friday afternoon, January 8. Miss Davis gave readings, including "The House with Nobody In It," by Joyce Kilmer, and Miss Haig played several piano selections.

* * *

Miss Diggs went to Richmond Monday, January 11th, to visit Dorothy, who is ill at the hospital. Immediately after exams Miss Diggs again went to Richmond, this time to be with Dorothy when she is operated on for appendicitis.

* * *

Norris Dameron, of Charleston, S. C., and Frances Bailes are registered for the spring semester. Welcome to you!

* * *

The Third Floor East Wing Little Sister Society held its annual convention last week-end. The following honor members, whose ages range from 13 to 15, were present: Ann Baker, who visited her big sister Susan; Catherine Gant, the visitor from Burlington; Virginia Martin, who can "Little Apple" as well as Sister Elise; and Frances Watts, visiting Martha. During their stay, the sisters went to the Civic Music Concert and to the play at Chapel Hill, had "lunch and movies" downtown, and were invited into Miss Bason's room for a "confectionary" party.

Other little sisters here for the week-end were Myra Blount, Novella Pope, and Martha Hall.

* * *

On Tuesday, January 25th, a class of nineteen students from the University of North Carolina School of Library Science, with a faculty member, Miss Cornelia S. Love, visited Saint Mary's Library. They were interested in book selections, and visited and reported on other Raleigh libraries, too, Meredith, State College, and St. Augustine's.